. . . Offer three one-act plays

ASUH Day to feature Ivy orator

Yutaka Nakahata, a sociology major and Real Dean, was elected last week by the seniors to deliver the annual ivy oration at the Senior ASUH Awards Day convocation on May 17.

Speakers chosen to represent the three colleges are: Florence Ching, applied sciences; Jean Ono, teachers college; and Clara Funasaki, arts and sciences.

Shieko Okazaki was election committee chairman.

Other candidates for speakers were: Ivy orator, Carolyn Ogata and Consuelo Olivas; applied sciences, Myrtle Sasaki; teachers college, Winifred Kawamoto; arts and sciences, Stanley Chow, Ellen Miller, Norman Uyeda and Peggy Yorita.

The convocation will be held at 10:30 AM in Farrington Hall.

STATEHOOD BOOKS TO BE DISTRIBUTED BEGINNING TODAY

Pamphlets which will be sent to the mainland colleges in order to enlist their support for Hawaii's statehood will be distributed in Hemenway Hall to ASUH members beginning today, according to Ralph Toyota, chairman of the statehood committee.

Toyota has also called a meeting of the statehood committee at 2:30 (Continued on Page 2)

GET HONORS

President is Prominent in Participation

Consuelo Olivas, president of the senior class and one of the nine Real Deans, hopes to become a social worker and go to the Philippines someday to help the people there.

As a major in sociology, Miss Olivas has been a member of the sociology club for four years, and served as secretary in her sophomore year. She has also been active in WAA activities throughout her college years.

Other activities that have taken up her time are: as an active member of the YWCA for three years; two years as a songbird in Hui Iiwi, with added duties as vice-president this year.

Miss Olivas has been chairman of two important drives conducted on the campus: Philippine Relief drive last year, and the March of Dimes campaign this year.

Tickets for show are now being sold in Hemenway Hall

The second production of the University of Hawaii Theatre Guild, consisting of three one-act plays, will be presented on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at 8 PM in Farrington Hall.

Tickets to the performances will be available to students this week in Hemenway Hall. Tickets cost seventy cents, tax included. All seats are reserved.

Tickets are also being sold from 1:30 to 4 PM at the Bergstrom Music Store. The box office in Farrington Hall will be open on performance nights.

"A Sunny Morning", written by Seraphin and Joaquin Quintero, is about two old Spanish people who discover that they were lovers once, long ago. The cast includes: Donna Laura, Jean McKillop; Petra, Evelyn Won; Don Gonzales, Melvin Letman; and Juanito, Victor Cohen.

Christopher Morley's "Rehearsal" deals with play production in a women's college. Players are: Frieda Helen Geracimos; Christine, Ione Rathburn; Barbara, Lorna Bowen; Gertrude, Janet Alter; Sonia, Josephine Federcell; and Marjorie, Harriet Holt.

"It Isn't Done", by Carl Glick, takes up the hardships of a radical who decides to become a poet in his small town. The cast: Poet, Bruce Wichman; Policeman, Earl Robinson; and Businessman, Rudolph Choy.

The production is directed by Dr. Joel Trapido, theatre guild director.

PEGGY YORITA MASAKO MORI

Two outstanding senior women selected Real Deans recently are Peggy Yorita and Masako Mori.

Miss Yorita served on the staff of Ka Palapala during her freshman year; was AWS committee chairman during her sophomore year; AWS president and YWCA cabinet member as a junior, and is now president of Hui Pookela.

She has been a member of the Commerce Club for four years.

Miss Mori has also participated widely in extra-curricular activities. During her sophomore and junior years, she was chairman of the YWCA membership committee. Last semester she was president pro tem of the Sociology Club and YWCA president. She also held the latter position as a junior.

EX-GI GRADUATE . . .

PAUL NISHIMURA SEEKS LAW DEGREE

By Clara Funasaki

Yes, their graduation was postponed. But Paul and "Sus" have no regrets.

Having served . . .

. . . with the 442nd Infantry in Europe, both Sgt. Paul Nishimura and Staff Sgt. Richard "Sus" Yamamoto have seen, experienced and learned much. They added realism and practicalism to their philosophy.

Paul, who was attached to headquarters battery, 522nd field artillery, feels that he has acquired tolerance to the extent that he can see the other person's point of view sympathetically.

"On the whole," . . .

. . . says Paul, "Americans, including myself, had been too concerned with making a living and gaining material wealth. Material gain is important, but there are other important things such as gaining worldly knowledge and understanding peoples of the world—to avert another war and to live happily."

In spite of the army's shortcomings, Paul, who intends to go on to law school, believes that it gives one a more positive attitude. "If there is something to do, do it. One either tackles a problem or avoids it. And usually one has to do the former."

"Sus" . . .

SENIORS BRING KA LEO TO ASUH FOR SIX DAYS

For six days this week, the senior class will publish Ka Leo as part of its contribution to ASUH activities during senior week.

Clubs and organizations, and especially faculty members and administrative offices as well, are urged to send in any information or announcements they may have for publication. News should be sent to the editor, campus mail 999.

Deadline will be noon on the day preceding date of publication.

CLASS MEETING THIS AFTERNOON OPENS SENIOR ACTIVITIES FOR ENTIRE WEEK

Dear seniors and underclassmen:

Four years of college work have taught me the folly of bromides but I still insist that "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Therefore, I urge everyone, especially the seniors, to enter into the fun and frolic of Senior Class Week.

Many of you have worked very hard in planning the activities for the week.

It is indeed very encouraging to have a group of students and friends thus willing to share the responsibilities of the class.

I wish that every senior and underclassman will participate in all the functions of Senior Class Week.

Your "Spark-plug",
Consuelo Olivas

Program Set For Five Days' Entertainment

Activities for senior class week will be launched at 12:45 p.m. today in the Alumni Room of Hemenway Hall when class members meet to discuss plans for the Baccalaureate service, the class banquet, and for the commencement exercise.

President Consuelo Olivas will preside.

Tomorrow afternoon, the seniors will sponsor a movie in social science building 103. Two performances will be given. The first show starts at 12:45 and the second matinee will follow at 2:30.

The programs are open to all.

On Wednesday . . .

. . . students will present a concert of classical and semi-classical music at 12:45 PM in the Alumni Room, Hemenway Hall.

Thursday . . .

. . . The Reverend Galen R. Weaver, pastor of the Church of the Crossroads, will speak on "Some Marks of Christian Maturity."

Friday's Berndt . . .

. . . Extemporaneous Oratorical Contest will be held under the auspices of the senior class and will be conducted at 12:45 PM in the Alumni Room, Hemenway Hall.

TWO CONTESTS ARE ON . . .

BERNDT ORATORICAL BANKS ESSAY

Entries are still being taken for the Berndt Extemporaneous Oratorical Contest which will be held at 12:45 PM Friday. Students intending to enter the contest should sign up with Earl Robinson, campus mail 477; Kenneth Nagata, campus mail 1299; or Paul Nakamura, campus mail 288.

Topics for the contest will be based on international issues and will be of five minutes' duration.

Medals will be awarded winners of the first three places.

Judges' decision in the Charles Eugene Banks Memorial contest for undergraduate creative writing will be announced sometime next week, according to Dr. A. Grove Day, assistant professor of English and chairman of the contest.

The three named to judge manuscripts are Mrs. Ingram M. Stainback, wife of the governor; Mrs. Ellen O'Brien, editor of the Paradise of the Pacific magazine; and Bert Nishimura, former editor of Ka Palapala and 442nd Infantry veteran now with Tongg Publishers.

Let them speak . . .

Behind the hue and cry raised over charges and denials of misinterpretation and misrepresentation of views and news regarding the recent forum on the campus lies the paramount consideration concerning the extent to which expression can be maintained in any university.

Whether or not the forum presented by the Hawaii Youth for Democracy showed decided one sidedness is beside the point. Whether or not newspaper accounts indicated "slanting" of the news is not the issue.

1 1 1 1 1

Newspaper editors who are not experts by far on foreign policy strive in their columns to present facts and arguments, reflections and opinions. Similarly, laymen and students, often shy of a thorough, adequate background, venture to present their thoughts, nevertheless.

When faculty members uncloset their mouths to holler at a downtown forum or at a group discussion, startled citizens gasp in horror that the supposedly absent-minded professors forsake and discard their staid, typical role.

No one claims that university instructors who are not professors of pol sci, qualify to be called authorities on foreign policy. But they do not maliciously intend to distort the opinions of their audience. Students believe they are entitled to hear opposing viewpoints.

Students here do not agree with some of the statements appearing in local journals and the men who made them. To prevent misunderstanding it would do well to invite them to speak on the campus.

For All To Enjoy . . .

All through the week the seniors have planned activities for themselves and for the student body. These programs are open to all.

See the movie tomorrow. Listen to the concert of classical and semi-classical music by student talent Wednesday. Take time out for meditation at the worship service Thursday. Decide now to enter the Berndt Extemporaneous Oratorical Contest or, if not, to attend the contest.

These programs are sponsored by the seniors but they are for all to enjoy. Everybody is invited.

CLUBS . . .

YMCA TO ELECT OFFICERS TODAY

YMCA members will meet at 12:45 PM today in Atherton House to elect officers for next year.

The nominating committee met last week and named twelve candidates for office. Six students were nominated for the offices of president and vice-president. The two candidates polling the highest number of votes will be chosen for president and vice-president, respectively.

Designated for the top positions are: George K. Yamamoto, Ralph Toyota, Kats Tomita, Shigemitsu Nakashima, Minoru Ikehara, Arthur Wong.

Candidates for secretary are: Ben Fukunaga, Thomas Goto, and Avon Yap.

Edward Wong, Goro Arakawa, and Osamu Nakamura are competing for treasurer.

Additional nomination may be made at the meeting today.

nomics at the University of Florence in Italy. He, too, has become more internationally minded.

Experiences of his jaunts on the mainland, from Oran, Algeria, through Italy to France and Germany, now enable genial "Sus" to "anticipate certain problems of life."

"Sus" says, "Now I am not so idealistic as to wait for ideal conditions before tackling problems. There always will be problems and one can't wait indefinitely before coping with them."

A major . . .
