KA LEO, CAMPUS JOURNAL, COMPLETES SEVEN YEARS OF SERVICE WITH THIS EDITION

First Issue Called
"Mirror of Hawaii;"
Four Columns

STARTED IN 1922

Henry M. Bindt, Blind
Student, First
Editor

By GEORGE FUJII

With the publication of this commencement edition of Ka Leo, the student weekly of the University of Hawaii has ended seven successful years of service. It was first started in 1922 by Henry Martyn Bindt. The need for a student paper was realized before this time but no definite steps had been taken by the students until Bindt volunteered to take the responsibility of editing one.

The project was discussed in the English class under Dr. Arthur Andrews in the spring of 1921. During the summer of the same year, Bindt spent the entire summer putting his plans into shape for the publication of a paper the following fall. It might be said here for the benefit of those who are not acquainted with Bindt that he is totally blind. He entered the University in the fall of 1919, asking no favors, and taking all the required courses. He tackled the publication of a paper with his characteristic courage. He went out single handed securing advertisements, and wrote the copies himself. The first edition of the Mirror of Hawaii came off the press on September 13, 1922. There was no editorial staff, there were no reporters and there was no advertising manager. Henry Bindt did the work.

First Issue

The first issue was a four column paper of four pages and was a credit to Bindt's untiring effort. Governor Wallace R. Farrington commenting on the effort to publish a paper said that there was a real need for such a weekly at the University.

By the next issue a staff was organized with Bindt as editor-in-chief and Gwenfreed Allen, present territorial editor of the Honolulu Star Bulletin as managing editor. In its editorial, the editor stated that the purpose of the publication was to give a complete and accurate presentation of University news, to interpret this news, and to be an active influence in the life of the University.

Made Official

The Mirror of Hawaii as it was then called, was made an official publication of the Associated Students of University of Hawaii on November 15, 1922. Not satisfied with this title the students decided to give their journal another name. At this time 50 names were suggested. Out of this, Ka Leo o Hawaii and Malamalama Hawaii (Light of Hawaii) were selected as the two appropriate names by a committee headed by Dean Andrews. By student vote, Ka Leo o Hawaii was picked as the most fitting. This name was suggested by Edwin Bryan Jr. '20. Under the guidance of Bindt, the paper made much improvement in style and makeup. A special eight page edition was

Mung Yee Yap, A Former Student Wins Big Prize

Captures Woodford Prize in Public Speaking at Cornell

Taking as his topic "China Today," Mung Yee Yap, former student at the University of Hawaii and a member of the graduating class of Cornell University, won the 50th Woodford Speaking Contest last month.

In his winning speech, Yap said that China's fundamental problem at present is independence from within and without. He said, "China is fighting for unity and for independence, independence from her war lords and from foreign domination. Every country has gone through essentially the same stage and her future lies ahead, a future which is as large as her past and as wide as her boundaries."

It was a signal honor for Yap. He had to speak against veterans who all belong to the Honorary Speaking society but Yap displayed his ability by capturing the $100 prize. Yap was a popular student while at the local University and at Punahou he was an outstanding student.

The contest which was open to all senior students at Cornell University was started in 1870 by the Honorable Stewart Lyndon Woodford. The Woodford prize of $100 is given annually for the best English oration, both matter and manner of delivery being taken into account. The prize is in the form of a gold medal, but the winner may, if he chooses, receive $100 in money.

Winifred Webster Elected President Of Hui Pookela

Winifred Webster, '30, was unanimously elected president of Hui Pookela, women's honorary society, for next year. Other officers elected were Janet Haughs, '30, vice-president; and Moku Gittel, '30, secretary-treasurer.

The organization of Hui Pookela was sponsored by A. W. S., the purpose of which is to recognize good scholarship, leadership, and unselfish service in campus activities. The point system is followed when new members are taken into the organization. The pins are made of white gold, the insignia being the key which signifies scholarship.

Charter members of Hui Pookela are Winifred Webster, Anne Moore, Gladys Li, Dorothy Anderson, Chiyoko Sadayasu, Ethel Franson, Gertrude Kadota, Louise Meurlott, and Lillian Abe. Newly elected members are Koto Nakamoto, Mathilde Sousa, Clarissa Coney, Moku Gittel, Maria Wong, Janet Haughs, Ruth Robbins, and Carolyn Shepherd.

Dean Dora Lewis has been the advisor for Hui Pookela.

1929 Number Of Ka Palapala, "U" Yearbook, Out

Largest Annual Produced
In History of the University

Possessing 256 pages of features and including the results of John Gilbert's selection in the Personality Group, the University of Hawaii's year-book, Ka Palapala, was distributed on the campus last Monday to hundreds of eager subscribers.

The 1929 book is jacketed in dark brown with a gold title-plate, and with two decorative strips which give it the effect of an ancient tome. Weber & McCrea of Los Angeles gave special attention to the design of varsity's cover, and the results have proved most effective.

In content the book is not only indicative of exceptional undergraduate work, but it possesses a series of new features that take it up and out of the "regular" class. Eight tri-color inserts from the brushes of such well-known local artists as Arman T. Manookian, Sam McLeod, and Henry B. Christian break the black-and-white intensity. Another interesting feature is the wood-cut done by Dean Ishii, varsity junior who recently won the Academy of Arts Christmas card award; and the collegiate pen-and-inks of Jane Kay Worthington, adviser for the book.

Innovation

"The Date Book" is an innovation which takes the place of the usually dry "calendar"; it depicts the outstanding events of the college year in undergraduate lingo and it is highly illustrated by cartoons. "Close-ups" give new zest to the snap-shot section. In this field particularly has the staff prevented amateurish make-up. "The Panini Thorn" is the humorous section in which, the staff asserts "if you are mentioned it's too bad, and if you're not, it's also too bad."

In thickness the new annual is almost twice that of 1928, this increase being due to the individual class pictures, the colored inserts, special features, and increased advertising. Approximate cost of the University's annual was $3300. The subscription price is, as usual, three dollars though, in actual expenditure, each copy of the book cost five dollars. The difference was amalgamated in advertising profits.

Extension Dept. Has New Service

The attention of all students is called to a new service that the Agricultural Extension Division is ready to render to farmers. Mr. Theodore Zscholke, extension forester, has been secured, whose duty it will be to confer with farmers and land owners regarding the desirability of planting trees on waste land for posts, fuel or windbreaks.

Any student interested in such tree planting is requested to leave the name and address of the owner of the land in order that the Extension Forester may call on the owner on the first trip to that locality.

of Duty

LEAVES JULY 2

Will Be Succeeded By Captain Ernest
Rudelius

As Commencement Day marks the end of the present academic year, so it brings to close the services of a member of the R.O.T.C. staff. Today Captain Norman M. Nelson completes his four year tour of duty as Assistant Professor of military science and tactics at the University of Hawaii. He will leave for his new station at Fort Niagara, New York, on July 2.

At the beginning of next fall Captain Nelson will be relieved by Captain Ernest A. Rudelius of Fort Detrick, whom he succeeded four years ago.

Captain Nelson will sail on the USS Transport St. Mihiel which will take him to Youngston, New York, via Panama canal. He is planning to take up his new duties in December and spend the four months in between, vacationing.

Raises Standard

While at the University Captain Nelson has considerably improved the standard of the R.O.T.C. by establishing a discipline system which consists of competitive drills, tests in training, and regular inspections.

In addition to his work on the campus, he has taken an active part in community activities especially in connection with the American Legion. He is at present Commander of Honolulu Post No. 1 of the American Legion department of Hawaii, and according to friends, he has by his untiring efforts brought that Post back to the proud position which it held many years ago in Honolulu.

Prior to his being commissioned in the regular army the captain served for many years in the National Guard of New York and his new assignment is in the nature of a return to service in his native state.

Lillian Abe Will Be President Of
A.W.S. Next Year

C. Coney, D. Namahoe, A.
Ing Are Other Officers
Elected

Lillian Abe, '30, class treasurer, vice-president of A. W. S. and member of Hui Pookela, will head activities of the Associated Women Students of the University next year. Working with her will be these other officers: Clarissa Coney, '30, vice-president; Dora Namahoe, '31, secretary; and Amy Ing, '31, treasurer. All four women are familiar with the general plan of the women's organization, having been connected in one capacity or another with A. W. S. committees.

Miss Abe has been active in campus life, having worked for two years on Ka Leo, Varsity weekly, besides taking part in dramatics. She was recently elected to Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic fraternity. Miss Coney is competent to carry the duties of her office for the vice-president is also program chairman, and for the past year she was chairman of the social committee. She was recently elected to Hui Pookela, women's honorary society. Miss Namahoe, a winner in the Personality contest judged by John Gilbert, popular screen idol, and which was conducted by Ka Palapala, Varsity annual, was one of

Commencement Day Program of U. H.

The 18th annual commencement of the University of Hawaii will be held in front of Hawaii Hall at 4:00 p. m. today. Regents, faculty members, and graduates will form a procession at Gartley Hall and will proceed to Hawaii Hall.

Dr. Charles E. Martin is the principal speaker for the day. He will talk on "The Unity of Civilization."

Reverend Akana will pronounce the invocation. President D. L. Crawford will present diplomas to the 108 graduates. Forty four will be graduated from the College of Arts and Science and 64 from the College of Applied Science.

Two students will receive the Master of Science degrees and six the Degree of Master of Arts.

The R. O. T. C. band will play. The University chorus will also furnish music.

Governor Farrington will present the R. O. T. C. commissions. Berndt Contest prizes will be given out to Ah Leong Fong and Ventnor Williams. Hawaii Quill contest prizes will be presented to Dorothy H. Kemp and Salome Lee, winners of the short story contest. Gladys Li, winner of the play contests, who tied with Alice Alexander for first place in the poetry contest, and Alice Alexander will also get prizes.

A. S. U. H. medals will be awarded to one student in each college.

Dr. Charles E. Martin
Will Deliver Main
Address

BEGINS AT FOUR

Baccalaureate Service
And Class Day
Impressive

Today at 4 p. m. the last significant ceremony of commencement week at the University of Hawaii takes place when 110 young men and women accept from the University their arts and sciences and applied science degrees, accept the creeds and doctrines of the University, and promise to carry them out into the world. Dr. Charles E. Martin, acting head of the political science department, delivers the commencement address, taking for his subject, "The Unity of Civilization."

Their mortarboards and black gowns lending a picturesque and academic atmosphere to the campus, Varsity's 110 graduating seniors officially opened commencement activities on Friday when the rites and ceremonies of Class Day were performed. Gathering on the steps of the library, the outgoing class, the largest in the history of the University, was photographed by the local press. Then, proceeding to the front steps of Hawaii Hall, the class of 1929 solemnized those rites which gave to Joseph Gerdes, president-elect of A. S. U. H. the koa gavel, to Ah Leong Fong, the koa quill, and to Philip Westgate and the class of 1930, the lamp of learning.

Medal Awards

Kam Tai Lee, editor of Ka Leo, and Dai Ho Chun, editor of Ka Palapala, were presented with gold medal awards by Edward Towse, retiring president of A. S. U. H. These awards are evidence of appreciation expressed by the student body for the publications work which has been done this year in the University. In making the Ka Palapala presentation, President Towse smilingly said that it was being given "in spite of the panini section." Following this ceremony, Richard Weight, with Dean Arthur R. Keller as recipient in behalf of the institution, presented to the University of Hawaii a trophy case for the corridor of Hawaii Hall, a clock for the gymnasium, and a cash fund to be used in purchasing and replacing books in the University library. Dean Keller graciously accepted the offering; President Crawford was unable to be present.

Visit Buildings

Forming an academic procession, their black robes swirling into voluminous folds as the trade breeze swept down Manoa Valley, the seniors visited, one by one, the campus buildings. At each station some fitting address was made.

Carrying on a tradition long established at the University, the ivy-planting ceremony was an impressive one. Kam Tai Lee, ivy orator, gave a clear, vivid, and worthwhile address to his fellow classmates, and brought to the occasion a tone of extreme value.

At six o'clock the class re-met at the varsity caf for a final dinner, and from the high-jinks that were in evidence throughout the meal,

HENRY MARTYN BINDT

With the issuance of this, the "Aloha" number of Ka Leo, the student newspaper of the University will have completed seven years of service. It is not within the province of this article to present a history of the beginning and struggle of the campus news sheet.

However it is but proper that we should pause and give credit where it is due.

No one who reads of the part that Henry Martyn Bindt had in starting a newspaper at the University of Hawaii can do aught but admire this blind student's extraordinary. Some seven years ago, Bindt, then a student here, saw the value of a campus paper. He was willing to sacrifice a good deal of his time to prove that it wasn't only a good thing, but something that was absolutely necessary to the life of the University. For a good part of the time he had to walk alone. There were skeptics.

But Bindt did it. Today there is not the slightest doubt that Ka Leo has a place in the life of Hawaii's University. As a medium of acquainting the students with activities and events of interest to them, of reflecting campus opinion and creating a better spirit among the undergraduates it has proven its worth. And so we take this opportunity to pause and place an editorial lei on Henry Martyn Bindt.

TODAY'S PROGRAM AT U IS FINALE

The seniors had a remarkably keen time. Whoopie floated throughout Manoa Valley. Following the dinner, the class adjourned to an "informal entertainment" in Hawaii Hall which, at nine o'clock, was so informal that many of the blushing and timid members were forced to abdicate in self-defense.

The Baccalaureate
On Saturday night the alumni and juniors of the University entertained the grads of 1929 with a dance and more whoopie at the Gymnasium. Several hundred persons attended the affair.

Yesterday morning at the Central Union Church at 11 o'clock, President David L. Crawford addressed the outgoing seniors at the baccalaureate services, assisted by Dr. John Hopwood of Mid-Pacific Institute. The ceremony was impressive and simple; Hui Pookela decorated the chapel for the occasion.

LARAMIE, Wyo.—The coed debating team of the University of Wyoming recently gave Baylor College of Waco, Texas, their second defeat in 86 years. The team has been touring the Southwest and winning many victories.

FIVE U CADETS ON ACTIVE DUTY LIST

Five cadets of the University R. O. T. C. who receive their commissions as second-lieutenants in the Reserve at today's commencement will report to the 19th Infantry at Schofield Barracks for their two weeks tour of active duty.

Second Lieutenants Thomas Ellis, James Huey and Alfred Kauncheiwa have been ordered to report to the Adjutant of the 19th Infantry tomorrow morning at eight o'clock. Lieutenants T. R. B. Coykendall and Kam Tai Lee will report to the same organization a week from today.

While connected with the regular organization at Schofield it is expected that the newly commissioned officers will be given practical training in both garrison work and in field maneuvers. The first half of their stay at the post will probably be spent in learning the intricacies of army "office" work while the latter half will be devoted to acquiring experience through practical work with troops on the field.

Current Year At Hawaii U Replete With Activities and Epochal Events

Successful Student Union Project, Institution of Lei Day on Campus and Many Others

By H. S. HIU

The current academic year at the University has been replete with activities and events. Never in the history of the University, in the opinion of many, have the students been afforded the opportunity of participating in such a large number of epochal events on the campus.

Outstanding among the activities of the year on the campus, according to student opinion, was the successful campaign carried on by the Associated Students to raise funds for the temporary Student Union building which is in process of construction, and which will be ready for occupation by the end of this month. The Student Union project, first proposed at the January meeting of the Associated Students was carried through by popular vote a month later when students and faculty members pledged the sum of $1600 in support of the plan.

The new structure has been estimated to cost $8000.00 and will be shared by the student body and the faculty alike. The plans of the building provide for an A.S.U.H. office, a committee meeting room, an office for Ka Leo o Hawaii, campus news sheet, an office for the University Y and a student co-operative store.

Football

The second notable activity, which has become a college tradition, was the securing of mainland football teams to play in Honolulu. This year the A.S.U.H. financed and managed three games with mainland colleges, namely, the University of Denver, the University of Oregon and Occidental College. The Deans defeated the latter and lost to the other two varsity teams.

Modify Exam System

The third important activity was the modification of the college examination system. The A. S. U. H. Student Council recently made several suggestions affecting the honor system. These were adopted by the faculty and were put in force during examination week. Briefly, the modifications provided the following: pledge will be graded; "instructors will act as proctors during the examinations and students cannot leave the class until the examination is finished; books and papers are tabu as blue books will be furnished by the University."

Lei Day

Fourthly, the institution of Lei Day exercises on the campus was another outstanding activity. Anne Moore, junior co-ed, was crowned the first University Lei Queen. The A.S.U.H. also conducted a lei contest, awarding three prizes for the most unique, most typically Hawaiian, and most varied leis.

The first varsity golf tournament which was held at Moanalua should also be mentioned as a big event on the campus.

Other activities included the awarding of medals and honorary insignias for services rendered in athletics and other fields; the frosh mixers and flag rush at the beginning of the year; and the recognition of three campus women organizations, namely, Ke Anuenue, Ka Pueo, and Hui Pookela.

EDWARD MORGAN IS NEW PRESIDENT OF AGGIE CLUB

Edward Morgan, a Junior at the University, was elected president of the Aggie Club for the coming school year 1929-1930. He was the vice-president of the same organization this year, an active student in the University affairs, and a member of the Varsity's track team. "The Aggie Club is out for big doings" this coming year, said the newly elected President. "With the set of officers chosen this year, nothing is impossible."

Other officers elected were: vice-president, Francis Fong; Secretary, Geo. I. Dowson; Treasurer, Francis Yap and Librarian, James Lindsay.

The Aggie Club is an organization with the purpose of encouraging research work and other enterprises along agricultural lines and is considered one of the most active organization on the campus.

Professor Bennett Plans Trip To Coast During The Summer

From serious study to summering in the South will be the summer plans of Victor Bennett, commerce professor. When interviewed he said that he is planning to stop at Stanford University and obtain information on the work of the Graduate School of Business. He also intends to stop at the University of Illinois to see his friend, Professor Paul D. Converse, head of the marketing department, who has written a number of books in the field of marketing. He expects to make a study of changing methods in distribution, the chain store, the mail order house, and department store business, cash and carry, wholesaling and the like and then probably do some actual selling. After all the study and work Professor Bennett plans to visit the South and the states of Maryland, Virginia and Louisiana in particular.

Students Make Summer Plans And Say Aloha

There are tears in many pairs of eyes these days when "Aloha Oe" is played. A number of University of Hawaii students are leaving Honolulu this summer to work or travel on the mainland or the other islands.

Alice Alexander, Alice Parker Bell, Jean Lucas, Martha Bradley, Berrys Grant, and Al Corbett sailed Saturday, June 1, on the City of Los Angeles. Alice Bell and Martha Bradley are with a group of music students who, after a day in Los Angeles, will go on to Chicago where they will study piano this summer. Jean Lucas will spend a few weeks on the coast before leaving for her home in Weatherford, Oklahoma.

Frank Fullaway left Wednesday, May 29, as radio operator on a boat working in the Bird's Islands.

Dorothy Waldron was married June 1 to Lt. Donald Tredennick. They will be stationed in Virginia. La Verne Clark will be married about the middle of June to Ensign James Simpson, and after a trip up the coast they will live in San Diego. Both girls are being graduated today.

Helene Berg and Jana Glenn sail Thursday, June 5, for San Francisco. Miss Glenn will return in the fall for another year at the University of Hawaii, and Miss Berg will return for the second semester. Mathilda Sousa who is being graduated today, will sail June 7 with her sister.

Edward Towse, graduate and President of A. S. U. H. for 1928-29, will leave later in the summer to attend law school at either the University of Virginia or Cornell. Richard Weight, another senior prominent in University activities plans to attend Harvard business school.

Carolyn Shepherd will spend most of the vacation period on a ranch on Hawaii. Elizabeth Cooper will visit on Kauai after summer school at the U.

Ventnor Williams will have an executive position at Dole's cannery, as will David Silva at Libby's. Larry Thomas will fill a position at the Advertiser, where he has been working part time for several years. Allen Moore will attend R. O. T. C. camp and later work for the Mat-

SOCIETY

A RESUME

During the year 1928-29 many events have crowded the social calendar at the University. With the formation of two Greek letter fraternities, Gamma Chi Sigma and Phi Delta Sigma, Hawaii has taken another step toward becoming a "big time university."

There have been several luaus this year, the more notable ones being the University Day luau and the Ke Anuenue luau.

There were also a good many outstanding dances during the year. The annual military ball, the Soph-Senior affair, the Hawaii Quill masquerade and the University Dance dance in the gym following the luau did much toward promoting a friendlier spirit among the students.

Members of the Associated Women Students have sponsored several very unique and entertaining parties, among which were, the "kid party" the "hour party" and the Senior Party.

Campus social organizations have also been active. Ka Pueo, Wakaba Kai, Yang Chung Hui and other groups staged many parties and dances during the two semesters.

HALE ALOHA DINNER

The girls of Hale Aloha enjoyed a banquet together last Thursday evening at the university cafeteria. They had as their honor guest Dean D. S. Lewis and presented her with a double carnation malle lei. The table was beautifully decorated and the interesting Hawaiian place cards had appropriate personal sentiments in rhyme. These afforded much merriment. A three pound box of Whitman's Chocolates was presented by Mrs. Lewis.

Those enjoying the dinner were La Verne Clarke, Dorothy Anderson, Clarissa Coney, Alice Bevins, Dorrit Clark, Frances Thomas, Pearl Josephs, Nada Stocks, Mary Moody, Joan Wilson, Rebecca Lyman, Pauline Laird, Christine Laird, Claire Moss, Marian Coxhead, Mrs. J. Mabel Coxhead and the guest of honor, Dean D. S. Lewis.

The members instrumental in making the Ke Anuenue luau a success. She is an old "standby" in the music committee of A. W. S. For the academic year just ending, Miss Ing was president of Yang Chung Hui, social club for Chinese women students on the campus.

Plans for Next Year
Arrangements are already being made for members of A. W. S. to serve as "big sisters" to the incoming women next year. The "big sisters" help the new girls in conducting them to the different buildings, arranging their program and schedules and making them feel "at home" during their first day on the University campus. A. W. S. begins its social functions on registration day when a Big Sister Tea is held for old and new women students. This is usually an informal get-together whereby all may have an opportunity of getting acquainted.

COMMERCE PICNIC

The would-be business men from the Commerce Club laid aside their pencils and books to enjoy an all day picnic at Waimanaloa Beach last Thursday, May 30. This is an annual affair of the club. The picnickers assembled at Nuuanu Y. M. C. A. and motored out to the picnic ground.

The forenoon was spent in swimming and indoor baseball game. The "Socksless Sluggers" under the captaincy of "Soup Suzuki defeated the "Hatless Hitters", led by David Wilson. Masayuki Adachi served as score keeper, using an adding machine to record the runs. Fishing was enjoyed by others.

After lunch volleyball games were staged on an improvised court. It is still an unanswered question as to who won the game. Both teams displayed some clever plays.

After kaukau Thomas Ellis was elected president with Francis Sato as his assistant. Isao Seto was re-elected secretary and Masayuki Adachi was given the job of collecting the dues. President Daishi reviewed the work of the club during the past year and complimented the outgoing officers and the members for the splendid cooperation given him during his term of office.

issued on March 28 to advertise the University to the public and especially to the Territorial Legislature which was then in session. The theme of the edition was "Is The University of Hawaii Worthwhile?" Following this, several class editions were issued.

Enlarged

In the following year the paper was enlarged to five columns under the editorship of Yasuo Baron Goto who is now County agent on Kona for the University Extension Department. The eight page special football edition on December 19 was something worth keeping. George Sakamaki who is now teaching at Doshisha University, Kyoto, Japan was the editor in 1924. In 1925 Walter Short took over the editorship of the paper. Many innovations were introduced during the year. Ka Leo furnished many comments and much material for the down town papers on the R. O. T. C. controversy at the University. In December a six column special edition of 10 pages was gotten out as a football program. Shunzo Sakamaki, teacher at Doshisha University, was editor the following year.

In 1927 the paper was permanently enlarged to a six column edition. Stowell Wright, editor of the Hawaii News on Hilo, was selected to be the editor. In November of the same year he was forced to resign. Mitsuyuki Kido, now teaching at Kailakau junior high school, was placed as editor with Kam Tai Lee as managing editor.

The present editor is Kam Tai Lee, who will be succeeded by Leong Fong.

Different Teams Maintain High Grade of Competition; Track Squad Gets Poor Student Support

By ALLEN MOORE
Sports Editor, Ka Leo

With the close of athletic events on the campus for the current year it might not be out of place to give a brief summary of what the Deans did in the way of sports. With the exception of the soccer team, every Varsity squad finished in the first division of its league. That in itself is a worthy achievement. No one team brought home the bacon but as a whole the Varsities maintained an exceptionally high standard.

King Football started the ball rolling last October with the Alumni game and ended with the famous Oregon encounter. Hawaii went down to the Graduates for the third consecutive time by a 13-7 score, the Mailes walloped the Deans 38-13 in the season's biggest upset, the Town Team galloped off with a 39-20 victory in the Big Game, Palama was safely disposed of 38-0, Oxy came down with a lot of fire and went home on the short end of a 32-0 game, Denver squeezed a 13-12 decision from the Varsity in the year's heartbreaker, and the 6-0 Oregon game is history and showed the Deans as one of the best teams ever to represent Hawaii.

Basketball
Shortly after the holiday vacation, basketball and soccer grabbed the limelight. The basketball team was unquestionably as good if not better than any in Dean history, injuries alone keeping the Varsity from seriously contesting Palama and the H. A. C. for the title. Although finishing in the cellar, the 1929 soccer squad held the unique honor of being the hardest team in the league to score on, not excepting Schofield or the Rangers. Of the 16 games Hawaii lost 13 by a single goal. A sensational defense and a weak offense were the outstanding features of the long soccer season.

Baseball
To say that the baseball team was a good one would be putting it mildly. The Varsity nine was the best Hawaii has ever put on the field. The Deans bowled over all of the strong teams in the circuit but their inability to down the second raters due to momentary slumps coupled with a touch of overconfidence cost them the Commercial League flag. The Iron Works copped the title losing only two games, both to the University which had the old high sign on the Boilermakers all season. At that, the Varsity finished in second place when the dopesters predicted at the opening of the campaign that the Deans hadn't a chance in the world of finishing even in the first division.

Tennis
After a slow start, the tennis squad got under way and at the season's close had one of the most feared teams in the league. Unexpected reversals at the hands of the Moana and Y. M. B. A. aggregations were a tremendous handicap to overcome but the Deans were equal to the task and finished the season in a highly creditable manner. A drop from champions to fifth place in a single year is a real catastrophe but of all the Varsity teams tennis was hardest hit by graduation this year.

Track
Track brought the sport calendar to a close two weeks ago when the Varsity took second place in our Rainbow Relays and then was runner-up to the Army in the A. A. U. Although a major sport, track was the least supported by the student body of all of the teams. With but a handful of athletes representing Hawaii, the showing of the Deans was nothing short of spectacular. The same men were called upon to run two and even three races in a single afternoon and taking second in both of the big meets of the year was a triumph second to none.

Next Year
Now as to a hasty survey of next year's outlook. Present indications point to another football team that should take a place alongside the Wonder Teams of 1923, 1924, and

SPORTITORIAL

The academic year 1928-1929 is now a thing of the past. The last baseball of the year has been thrown, the track spikes have been stored away for next season, spring practice has come to a close and the footballs have been locked up, the racquets have hit their last balls, and quiet again reigns at the Locker Room. An intense quiet broken only with expectations of the year to come.

Freshman Week will usher in another strenuous nine months campaign for the Deans, a campaign that promises to eclipse any of its predecessors. Three trips on the part of Varsity teams loom for next year; the football trip to Oregon, the tennis trip to the Big Island and possibly Maui as well, and the baseball trip to Japan. Interest and support on the part of the student body this year was a decided improvement over that of last, despite the fact that for the first time in Hawaii's athletic history the Deans failed to win a single championship.

Next year the Deans should grab a handful of titles. With the prospective material on hand this is neither an idle threat nor an unfounded boast. It remains for the students to get behind next year's teams and make 1929-1930 the biggest sport year the University of Hawaii has ever known—A. R. M.

Plunger's Spotlight

The last event of the sporting year as far as the Varsity is concerned will be the baseball game with the University of California at the Stadium on July 10. The Deans won their first inter-collegiate game last month against Hoesi. Will they repeat?

The Yankees seem to be in for a big sleigh ride this season from present indications. The Athletics are leading the parade but whether they can hold their enviable position is a horse of another color.

Colonel Bradley's Blue Larkspur won the Withers stakes the other day from a class field and broke the record which has stood for over fifteen years. Bradley is Kentucky's leading bet in the horse-racing game. The writer can remember in 1926 when his Bubbling Over and Boot to Boot finished first and second in the Kentucky Derby, the first time in the history of the classic that one stable had turned the trick.

Our old friend George Uhle continues to mow them down. Tuesday he let Chicago off with 3 hits for this ninth consecutive victory this year. What a has-been that baby turned out to be.

We see where the great Cornelius Mac Gillicuddy, better known as Connie Mack, says that the only superlative baseball player he ever sold was Charlie Jamieson. What about Barry, McInnis, the Collins brothers, Jackson, and Cobb?

Many Dean Athletes To Graduate Today

It would be highly deplorable to omit in the last issue of Ka Leo mention of the men who are leaving the University and who have worn Hawaii's uniform for the last time. Their presence at the Locker Room will be missed next year and their places on the Varsities will be hard to fill. Hawaii has conferred its highest athletic award to them and the entire student body bids them its sincerest aloha. The following is the list of the seniors who have won their Varsity letters: Football—Edward Towse, Red Weight, Fred Steere, and K. C. Lau. Basketball—K. M. Chun, and T. Tasaki. Soccer—F. Steere, Larry Thomas, Red Weight, and Herbert Kai. Tennis—T. Kawahara. Track—Alfred Giles, Percy Smith, Antonio Cruz, Kam Tai Lee and Joe Swezey. To those Seniors who have turned out and untiringly aided in making the Varsity possible although not making a letter themselves, Hawaii extends its appreciation for the finest possible exhibition of California has found the going pretty hard in Japan. Waseda fairly annihilated the Bears 20-0 and 9-0 in the two games they've played to date. Baseball in Cherry Land is fast approaching the standard set by annihilated the Bears 20-0 and the visitors are evidently taking their opposition too lightly.

Dean Baseball Nine Enjoys Good Season; Finishes In Third Place

Figured Prominently In Commerce League Championship; Lack of Good Relief Pitcher and Shortstop Felt

By ANDREW MITSUKADO

Although they did not win the Commercial baseball league championship, the Fighting Deans, under the tutelage of Otto Klum, enjoyed a very successful campaign during the season just closed. They figured prominently in the gonfalon race up to the very end and then came back for more glory in the post season games against the Pullen Giants and the Hoesi University team from Japan.

At the beginning of the Commercial league season, the Deans were rated very low. However, it did not take very long before they started burning up the league with their flossy playing. And before anybody knew what it was all about they were threatening to walk away with the title. But due to the lack of a capable short stop and a good relief pitcher, they began to slip gradually and at the end of the season they were lodged in third place.

Beat Strong Teams

The Deans had a knack of downing the strong teams. Whenever they met the Honolulu Iron Works, Commercial league champions, they played great ball. They beat the champs twice something which the other teams of the circuit could not do. This they did by hitting the offerings of Jose Ginella, Honiron southpaw ace, vigorously at opportune moments. Against the Hawaiian Electrics, they split even, losing the first game and winning the second.

The tailenders were the ones who caused a world of trouble for the collegians. And if memory serves they were the very aggregations that put the Deans out of the running by coming from behind to squelch them in the crucial games.

Assert Strength

However, the Deans did not assert their real strength until they

Outplay Hoesis

Then came the Hoesi game. The Deans clearly outplayed the visitors from the land of cherry blossoms and came out on the long of a 6 to 3 score. They hit well and played a fine game afield. In this tilt, "Lefty" Ishii again displayed his wares. He had control and kept the ball out of the groove of the visitors throughout the game and limited them to five hits. Moreover, his slow deceiving floaters baffled them completely.

Such in brief is the resume of the successful season enjoyed by the ball tossers of the University of Hawaii. May the team of next year rise to greater heights!

"EVIL EYE" FEARED

In Italy especially the evil eye has been believed in and guarded against for centuries. It is known as "la jettatura," and many persons were and still are known as "jettatori," or possessors of the evil eye, who have the quality of injuring all on whom they look, even against their own will. Those who meet them cross their fingers or make the sign of the cross or touch some charm against the evil eye.

"Us girls certainly have to work hard, don't we?" confided one laundry girl to another.
"Yeah," was the response; "That's where the rub comes in." Well, what of it?
