Preface

PURPOSE

Japanese publications on Southeast Asia are more and more frequently cited by American scholars. This demonstrates the growing value and relevance of the work of Japanese scholars. Also, book reviews of works by Japanese scholars are beginning to appear regularly in the major scholarly journals on Southeast Asia.

This bibliography provides ready access to the English-language publications of Japanese scholars on Southeast Asia. It is hoped that this bibliography will provide American scholars with some idea of what Japanese specialists have published in their areas of interest. I have aimed to be as comprehensive as possible in my coverage and, hopefully, I have included most of the major publications published in English. I would appreciate being informed of omissions.

SCOPE

Included are only works published in English between 1945 to 1991 by Japanese nationals who are Southeast Asian specialists. This means I have excluded the works of such American researchers as Seiji Naya, Harry Oshima, and others. Unintentionally, I may have included works of some American scholars. Social sciences and humanities publications have been emphasized. The sciences and technical publications have been included if they are of potential interest to area specialists. By consulting this bibliography, users have access to the intellectual contour of Japanese scholarship on Southeast Asia.

SUBJECT ARRANGEMENT

Since American scholars and students are familiar with the Bibliography of Asian Studies, I have used that classification system as the basis for the subject arrangement but have modified it to make it appropriate for this bibliography. The users of this bibliography will come from diverse disciplines, and some may find the subject arrangement less than satisfactory. I welcome your comments and suggestions.

EXCLUSION

Articles from Far Eastern Economic Review and Asiaweek have been excluded. Also, articles less than two pages have not also been included.

UPDATE

To update entries in this bibliography, users may want to consult the following sources:

- Ajia Keizai Shiryo Geppo/Library Bulletin lists journal articles and books by country and by subject acquired by the Institute of Developing Economies.

- Ajia Shiryo Tsudo= Materials on Asia-Accession List and Review provides a monthly listing of English language publications acquired by the National Diet Library.

- Nihon Zenkoku Shoshi/Japanese National Bibliography Weekly List includes English-language publications on Southeast Asia published in Japan that the National Diet Library has acquired.

Such major scholarly journals as the Tonan Ajia Kenkyu/Southeast Asian Studies published by the Center for Southeast Asian Studies, Kyoto University, The Developing Economies published by the Institute of Developing Economies, and The East Asian Cultural Studies published by the Centre for East Asian Cultural Studies should also be consulted regularly. The Toyota Foundation publishes Occasional Report which includes announcements of publications and grants awarded to Japanese and Southeast Asian researchers on Southeast Asian topics.

Publications from the following three major research centers on Southeast Asia should also be checked: The Center for Southeast Asian Studies at Kyoto University, the Institute of Developing Economies (Tokyo), and the National Museum of Ethnology (Osaka).

I consider this bibliography a working tool that needs feedback from you the users to improve it and make it even better tool. If sufficient responses are received, a revised edition may be seriously considered. Comments may include suggestions for new entries, subject classification and address these to Shiro Saito, University of Hawaii Library, Honolulu, HI 96822.
Acknowledgments

While compiling this bibliography over many, many years, I have incurred countless debts and favors from institutions and individuals in Japan, the continental U.S., and Hawaii.

For institutional and financial support, I would like to acknowledge the crucial support of the Center for Southeast Asian Studies, Kyoto University. I was a Visiting Research Scholar at the Center in 1987-88 where and when the major part of the bibliography was compiled. Researchers at the Center were very helpful and I would like to express my gratitude especially to Tsuyoshi Kato, Narifumi Maeda, Yoshihiro Tsubouchi, Kenji Tsuchiya, and Toru Yano. Yoneo Ishii, then Director of the Center, was especially encouraging and kind in many ways. I am also greatly indebted to Kunio Yoshihara for his central role in the project and for his help. Faye Mizusaki also helped me in many ways. I must thank Yasuko Kitano for her patience, generosity, and assistance which greatly made our stay in Kyoto productive and enjoyable.

Other Japanese institutions where I conducted my library research should be acknowledged. These are the National Diet Library (especially Akihiro Yoshihisa), the JETRO libraries in both Tokyo and Osaka, Japan International Cooperation Agency Library (Shinichi Kawashima and Mayako Matsuki), Tokyo University of Foreign Studies Library, the National Museum of Ethnology Library, and the International House of Japan Library (Tamiyo Togasaki and Junko Kurita). One of the best places to conduct research on contemporary Southeast Asia is the Institute of Developing Economies Library which houses an excellent collection, well cataloged, and staffed by many helpful individuals (especially Kunio Igusa and Shusaku Matsumoto).

I am also indebted to other Japanese scholars who assisted me in so many ways: Shinzo Hayase of the University of Kagoshima, Setsuho Ikehata of Tokyo University of Foreign Studies, Masaru Miyamoto of the National Museum of Ethnology, Yasushi Kikuchi of Waseda University, Yoshiko Nagano-Kano of Kanagawa University, Akira Takahashi of University of Tokyo, Mamoru Tsuda of Osaka University of Foreign Studies, and Hiromitsu Umehara of Rikkyo University. Akie Tonoike of The Centre for East Asian Cultural Studies introduced to me many helpful materials.
In this country, I received assistance from many helpful librarians and gained ready access to the excellent collections at their university libraries including: University of California at Berkeley and Los Angeles, Cornell University, Harvard University, Indiana University, University of Michigan, University of Washington, University of Wisconsin, and also at the Library of Congress.

I also thank David Szanton and Peter Xenos for their encouragement and support and also Masao Nishimura and Takashi Shiraishi for providing informative insights of Japanese scholarship on Southeast Asia.

Here in Hawaii, the Research Relations Fund and the Center for Southeast Asian Studies of the University of Hawaii provided additional funding for this project. I owe many thanks to my colleagues at the University of Hawaii Library and especially to Lan Hiang Char, Alice Mak, Yasuto Kaihara, and Masato Matsui for their assistance. Also to John Haak who was supportive of this project. I am most gratefully to my wife, Elsie, for her continued support and to my son, Ron, who, with understanding and humor, helped me work on Pro-Cite and Word programs to make this bibliography a reality.
