SERVING “LOW-STATUS” POPULATIONS?
A Consideration of Christine Pawley’s Argument for Social Theory Education in LIS

UH Manoa LIS 681: Books and Media for Children
Summer, 2010 – Prof. Nalani Naluai

Preparing LIS Students to Serve Children and Their Communities

Diversity and Outreach
- Hawaiian and multi-cultural literature
- Kawika Eyre guest lecture
- Keikilani Myers
- Oral Traditions
- Current issues
- Race and Class
- Drugs and Violence
- Sexual Orientation
- Exceptionalities
- Family and Peer Relationships
- Community Opportunities
- Libraries
- Schools
- Alu Like
- Associations and Support Groups

Selection Considerations
- Sensory Factor Appeal
- Audience Environment
- Quality
- Awards and Recognition
- Illustrations
- Plot
- Use of Language
- Accuracy
- Genre
- Griswold’s Factors
- Snugness
- Scariness
- Smallness
- Lightness
- Aliveness

Practical Experience
- Hawai‘i Children’s Literature Conference Volunteers
- Room Hosts
- Clerical and Administration
- Children’s Activity Events
- Storytelling Assistants
- Linda Sue Park and Brian Selznik
- Guest Speakers
- Current Authors
- Cornelia Funke
- Storytellers
- Janet Zisk
- Vicki Dworkin
- Community Professionals
- Book Presentations
- Varied Genres
- Varied Presentation Techniques
- Literature Activity
- Audience Tailored
- Objective Based