<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>CONTENTS</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Hawaii State Legislature Honors Dr. Salato</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>University of Guam, Western Pacific Studies</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Annual Meeting, Society for Ethnomusicology</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Course: Education in Pacific Island Societies</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pacific Telecommunications Conference '82</td>
<td>5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1982 ASPA Conference &quot;Frontiers of Public Administration and the Pacific Nations</td>
<td>6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summer Study Abroad - Samoa</td>
<td>6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summer Study Abroad - Tahiti</td>
<td>7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>PIP Seminar:Honorable Leo Hannett, Premier North Solomons Province, PNG</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>PIP Seminar: Dr. James Dator</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
HAWAII STATE LEGISLATURE
HONORS DR. SALATO

In March, the Eleventh Legislature, State of Hawaii passed House Resolution 462 recognizing Dr. Macu Salato for his contributions to the people of the Pacific. Dr. and Mrs. Salato were present at the ceremony. House Resolution 462 was initiated by Representative FRED W. ROHLFING and it reads:

WHEREAS, Hawaii is fortunate to have in its midst a very distinguished scholar and leader of the Fijian people as a result of the University of Hawaii Pacific Islands Studies Program, foreign scholar exchange program; and

WHEREAS, this distinguished scholar, Dr. Macu Salato of the Dominion of Fiji, is currently working with students in the U.H. Pacific Islands Studies Program, as well as assisting in the establishment of the multi-national Pacific Islands Development Program under the "umbrella" of the East-West Center; and

WHEREAS, having first been appointed to the Government Service--Medical Department in 1936, later receiving recognition for his outstanding service, particularly in his research and studies of tuberculosis, and upon his promotion to Assistant Director of Medical Services in 1969, and later to Director of Curative Medical Services, Dr. Salato became the first graduate of Fiji Medical School to be promoted to a directorate level; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Salato, having been elected Mayor of Suva in 1970, became the first non-European Mayor of the city; and

WHEREAS, after 36 years of government service, during which time he also served as Foundation member and First President of the Fiji Medical Association, Dr. Salato attempted to retire in 1972, but was soon called by his newly independent nation to serve as Fiji's first high commissioner to Britain; and

WHEREAS, having first served as a member and then leader of the Fiji delegation to various South Pacific Conferences from 1973 to 1975, Dr. Salato was appointed Secretary-General of the South Pacific Commission in 1975; and during his years as Secretary-General to the South Pacific Commission, Dr. Salato's leadership and ability helped to transform the Commission into a more smoothly functioning and effective organization; and
WHEREAS, gaining recognition as the most widely-traveled Secretary-General in the history of the South Pacific Commission and having personally represented the Commission at numerous national and international meetings, Dr. Salato has helped to achieve more effective relationships with Pacific governments and various international bodies; and

WHEREAS, in his current role at the University of Hawaii Pacific Studies Program and the Pacific Islands Development Program at the East-West Center, Dr. Salato is contributing in a new way to the attainment of a better life for all Pacific islanders; now, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED by the House of Representatives of the Eleventh Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1981, that this body wishes to thank Dr. Macu Salato for his contributions to a better understanding between all people, including students, who hopefully will carry on his work in the future and to honor him as one of the Pacific's most distinguished statesmen and scholars; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that certified copies of this Resolution be transmitted to Dr. Macu Salato, Ratu Sir Kamisese Mara, Prime Minister of Fiji, and The Honorable Young Vivian, Secretary General of the South Pacific Commission.

UNIVERSITY OF GUAM
WESTERN PACIFIC STUDIES

The University of Guam is considering the development of a program in Western Pacific Studies which is defined as Guam, the U.S. Trust Territory of the Pacific, and Kiribati. Last year, Dr. LEONARD MASON, Professor Emeritus, spent several months at the University of Guam to evaluate its Pacific offerings and make recommendations for a Western Pacific Studies program. In March, Dr. ROBERT C. KISTE, Director, Pacific Islands Studies Program, spent one week at Guam to follow up on Mason's work. The University of Guam is being assisted by a U.S. Department of Education grant for Strengthening Developing Institutions. Dr. GEORGE J. BOUGHTON, Department of History, is director of the program. He will be at the University of Hawaii for further consultations in June. The program will complement Guam's Micronesian Area Research Center which is directed by Dr. DIRK BALLENDORF.
ANNUAL MEETING
SOCIETY FOR ETHNOMUSICOLOGY
Honolulu, October 15-17, 1981

The Society for Ethnomusicology will hold its 26th Annual Meeting in Honolulu, October 15th through 17th, 1981, hosted by the University of Hawaii at Manoa through the Ethnomusicology Section of the Music Department. Among the session themes of the conference are several that may be of interest to specialists in Pacific Islands Studies including "Folk and Folk-derived Music in Contemporary Tourism," "Music in Integration and Adjustment of Newly-arrived Immigrant Groups," and "Trance, Music, and Dance." In addition to papers and panels, there will be workshops; special performances; and audio-tape, film and videotape presentations. Membership in the Society (annual dues: regular $20.00, student $12.00) and conference registration fee which includes three lunches, refreshment breaks, and admission to performances (for local residents: regular $60.00, student, $40.00) are required for participation and attendance.

Deadline for proposing papers, panels, audiovisual presentations, etc. (on specified abstract forms) is April 30, 1981. For further information, contact the Program Chairperson, Prof. BARBARA B. SMITH, Music Department, University of Hawaii at Manoa, 2411 Dole Street, Honolulu 96822 (or at her home phone: 946-6796) or Local Arrangements Chairperson, Prof. Ricardo D. Trimillos, Music Department, University of Hawaii at Manoa (x7707).

NEW COURSE
EDUCATION IN PACIFIC ISLAND SOCIETIES

EdEF 497, "Education in Pacific Island Societies", is an experimental under-graduate course that will be offered for the first time in Fall 1981. This course is designed to survey the historical and social foundations of education -- formal, nonformal and informal -- in Pacific Island societies (excluding Hawaii) with particular focus on contemporary problems and issues.

Topics to be covered include (1) Education and Schooling: Learning in a Traditional Society, (2) Impact of European Contact on Learning, (3) Role of Mission Education, (4) World War II as an Educational Experience, (5) Western "Aid" for Education, (6) Problems of Education in Newly Independent Nations, (7) The "Diploma Disease" in Pacific Islands, etc.

Inherent in these topics is consideration of such key political, social, intellectual and pedagogical points as social stratification, race relations, economic constraints, dependency theory, what is a "good" society, language policy, demographic trends, oral traditions, literacy, etc. The course will be offered by Dr. E. BEAUCHAMP, Tuesday and Thursdays, 1:30-2:45 p.m., Wist Hall 206.

For further information contact Edward Beauchamp (948-7817/7913) before June 1 or after August 17; should anyone wish to reserve a space in the course, call our departmental secretary, Mrs. Irene Oka, at 948-7817/7913.
PACIFIC TELECOMMUNICATIONS
CONFERENCE '82

Pacific Telecommunications Issues in the 1980's

The fourth annual Pacific Telecommunications Conference will be held January 18-20, 1982 at the Ilikai Hotel, Honolulu, Hawaii. This year's Conference will focus on telecommunications issues in the developing nations of the Pacific region including the Americas, Asia and the Pacific Islands.

Conference Co-Chairman:
David J. Horton; Vice President - Marketing, GTE Communications Network Systems
Jack Lyle; Director, East-West Communication Institute

Conference Program Chairman:
Anthony W. Armstrong; Director of Revenues and Earnings, Hawaiian Telephone Company

Issues to be Addressed Include:

Telecommunication Infrastructure and Needs
Self-sufficiency in Meeting Telecommunications Demands
Availability and Application of Equipment and Services
Standards and Compatibility
Manpower and Training
Role of Multinational Corporations and Industrialized Nations in Telecommunications
Social and Economic Implications of the Introduction of Telecommunications Technology to Developing Areas
International Flow and Control of News and Information Rates, Tariffs, Economics and Investment Capital

Papers are requested in these and other issue areas. Please submit drafts (approximately 10 pages, double spaced) by July 30, 1981.

Exhibitors are invited to take part in the program by serving as panelists, by giving tutorials as well as by displaying their products and services.

For information please contact the PTC Office:
1110 University Avenue
Suite 303
Honolulu, Hawaii 96826
Phone: 941-3789
949-5752
1982 ASPA CONFERENCE "FRONTIERS"
OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION AND THE PACIFIC NATIONS

The American Society for Public Administration (ASPA) is going to hold its 1982 National Conference in Honolulu, Hawaii (Hilton Hawaiian Village), March 21-25. The 1982 Conference is unique in that it places a special emphasis on the international concerns of the Pacific community as manifested in the conference theme: "Frontiers of Public Administration and the Pacific Nations."
ASPA is a professional and scholarly organization founded in 1939 to advance the science, processes, and art of public administration. Currently, ASPA has a membership of 18,000 consisting of government administrators, professors, researchers, and consultants. Its bi-monthly publication, Public Administration Review, is subscribed by approximately 21,000 individuals and organizations.

Public administration practitioners and scholars of all nations, particularly those in and around the Pacific Ocean, are cordially invited to attend and participare in the conference. ASPA, however, does not provide travel expenses or honorary for the conference participants or guests. The 1982 conference programs will create an interactive forum and encourage exchange of experiences, knowledge, and ideas worth sharing with the public administration communities across the Pacific and around the world. A major bloc of program sessions will be exclusively devoted to the "Pacific-frontiers theme" in addition to a sizable cluster of program sessions dealing with international and comparative administration.

Some of the major substantive areas to be addressed in the Pacific theme program sessions will include: (1) management of oceanic resources and related subjects such as management of marine resources, coastal zone, and waterfront development; (2) urban management in the Pacific nations such as governing super cities, urban growth and infra-structure development, etc.; (3) managing rural development; (4) managing economic and social development including such issues as productivity, technology, governance problems of multi-ethnic and multicultural societies among others.

Our efforts for program planning are just in the beginning stage. Suggestions for program ideas and indications of program interests are indeed welcome. For inquiries about conference attendance and suggestions for the conference programs, contact the 1982 ASPA Conference Pacific Nations Programs Chairperson: Professor Yong Hyo Cho, Department of Urban Studies, The University of Akron, Akron, Ohio, 44325, or the ASPA Office in Washington.

SUMMER STUDY ABROAD
SAMOA

The Department of Indo-Pacific Languages will offer a program of Study Abroad in Western Samoa during the 1981 Summer Session. The six-week course will consist of an initial period of preparation and course work pertaining to the geography, culture and languages of Polynesia. This will be followed by four weeks of field study in a remote rural village in the independent Polynesian nation of Western Samoa. The program is designed to provide each student with the opportunity to experience first-hand a living Polynesian culture; to observe how Samoans live in their own environment; and to be able to form conclusions about the Samoan culture and about Polynesians in general. Participants will live in individual family units (one student per family) and will participate in the daily activities of family and village life as adopted members of their respective families.

Students will meet daily for lectures and discussions on Samoan and Polynesian culture. Communication in the Samoan language will be stressed and students without prior knowledge of Samoan will be required to attend daily language classes (which will be available to all participants). Where feasible, students will participate in village activities such as group fishing, food gathering, cooking, sports, ceremonies, etc. Educational activities (e.g. tapa making, tattooing, building of canoes and houses, etc.) allowing for participation by the students will be arranged through the village organization. Students will also be given the opportunity to travel throughout the four inhabited islands as well as to visit the capital city, Apia.

All participants must register for IP 369B (Study Abroad in an Indo-Pacific Country: Samoa-3 credits). In addition, students without knowledge of Samoan may also register for IP 101 (Elementary Samoan). For further Information, contact the Department of Indo-Pacific Languages, 948-7409 or 948-7452.

DATES: JULY 6 - AUGUST 13, 1981

CREDITS: 3 IP 369B
           4 IP 101 Elem.Samoan

COST:   $900 (Estimate: includes airfare, housing, food, 3 credit tuition, insurance). Tour payable to European World Travel.
       $69 (Resident tuition) payable to UHM, Sakamaki Hall, C104.
       $103.50 (Non-Resident tuition).
       $10 Insurance, payable to UHM, Sakamaki Hall, C104.

Instructor John Mayer of the Indo-Pacific Languages Dept. will lead this program. He has served in the Peace Corps in Western Samoa for three years (1970-73), teaching and writing a Samoan Language book. This will be his fourth trip to Western Samoa. John Mayer has been teaching at the University of Hawaii at Manoa since 1976.

SUMMER STUDY ABROAD
TAHITI

FORMAL PROGRAM: (All students will take IP 369D. Those with no knowledge of Tahitian shall take Tahitian 101. Enrollment options include Letter Grade, Credit-no credit, or audit.)

IP 369 D: Overseas Study in Indo-Pacific Languages & Cultures: French Polynesia. (3 credits) This will involve a wide range of activity from academic to cultural participation.
7 WEEK PROGRAM: Two weeks of full-time intensive study in Honolulu will precede the travel portion of the program and will prepare students for the five week stay in French Polynesia, where classes will be conducted on Huahine mostly during the morning hours. At other times participants will be encouraged to mix study with an optimal amount of broad interaction within the local Tahitian community. Huahine is a beautiful rural environment with small village communities within which the life styles have been less effected by French or other western influences than on the island of Tahiti itself. A few days on a trading vessel will further round out the Polynesian picture on outer islands such as Raiatea and others. The program will conclude with approximately one week on the island of Tahiti.

Students should not expect a great deal of privacy or comfort and convenience in the living arrangements and should be prepared to study under conditions of on-going group and individual activities during the travel phase. Published texts and xeroxed packets will be available in the UH Bookstore. Advanced language students should have a small tape recorder. The program will provide an excellent opportunity for all to witness the vitality of the Tahitian language within its cultural context and to make exciting progress in learning. Students may continue Tahitian language study at the University of Hawaii.

PROPOSED SCHEDULE: (Subject to airline schedule modification).

June 22 - July 3 At the University of Hawaii, Honolulu, Hawaii. Predeparture language and culture orientation.

July 3 Departure for Tahiti and Huahine.

July 7 - 9 Visit to Raiatea, Tahaa, Maupiti (subject to schedule) aboard interisland trading vessel.

July 10 - 31 On Huahine, continuation and completion of language and cultural participation program.

Aug. 1 - 8 On Tahiti, unstructured time for observation of Tahitian life styles and contrast with those of Huahine.

Aug. 9 - 10 Return to Honolulu, Hawaii.

COSTS: Basic Program Costs: Estimated total for Hawaii residents = $1,750.00 This is to be paid in two parts prior to program commencement in Honolulu. $1,500 covers #1 and #2 below. (Non residents add #3 and #4.)

1. Tuition, Fees, Insurance: $181 to the University of Hawaii (7 credits).

2. Round trip group airfare between Honolulu - Tahiti and Tahiti - Huahine. Interisland trip on trading vessel. Housing in French Polynesia. Most meals and contingency expenses. Total approximately $1,550 will be paid to the travel agent, Destination Everywhere.
3. Non-Hawaii-residents should add at least $200 for Honolulu housing and maintenance during the predeparture portion of the program. Participant shall make own arrangements but are referred to the Student Housing Office, 2555 Dole Street, Honolulu, HI 96822.

4. Round trips costs from other locations to and from Honolulu are NOT included in this estimate. Such costs and arrangements must be handled separately by each participant. See travel agent for help.

Individual costs in French Polynesia. Participants should take at least an additional $200 to cover such expenses as a few meals, and all entertainment and souveniers.

FINANCIAL AID: Certain students may qualify for assistance. Inquire at the Financial Aids Office. 2442 Campus Road, Honolulu, HI. 96822 Phone: 948-7251.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:
1. Prof. Jack H. Ward, Dept. of Indo-Pacific Languages. Spalding Hall 463 and 459, University of Hawaii, Honolulu, HI 96822. Phones: 948-7574, 948-8672 (Ku'ulei and Andrea: assistants.)
2. Destination Everywhere (Celina Sinclair): 931 University Avenue, Room 307, Honolulu, HI 96826. Phone: 941-4408.
3. Study Abroad Program Office (Lynn and Torri): Phone 948-6950.

PIP SEMINAR
HONORABLE LEO HANNETT
PREMIER NORTH SOLOMONS
PROVINCE, PNG

Premier LEO HANNETT, North Solomons Province, Papua New Guinea, was in Honolulu in late April en route to the U.S. mainland. He is on a 30 day visit to the U.S. as an International Visitor Grantee, U.S. International Communication Agency. On Monday, April 27, Premier Hannett gave a seminar. He spoke on "The Process of Government Decentralization in Papua New Guinea."

PIP SEMINAR
DR. JAMES DATOR

Dr. JAMES DATOR, Department of Political Science, recently participated in a conference on Ponape, Eastern Caroline Islands. It was concerned with the development of a judiciary for the State of Ponape. The central theme was: "What mix of traditional and Western forms of dispute settlement is appropriate for Ponape?" On May 5, Dr. Dator spoke at a PIP seminar and discussed the Ponape conference.
PACIFIC ISLANDS STUDIES PROGRAM
Moore Hall 215
University of Hawaii
Honolulu, Hawaii 96822