Community Chest Goal Topped With $4401.64

Final returns from the Community Chest drive indicate a total collection of $4401.64, topping the $3000 goal by $1401.64.

Faculty and staff contributions brought in $3604.29, while students gave $797.35.

Campus clubs were responsible for all student contributions, reported Robert Katayama, co-chairman of the drive with Yaeko Fujimoto.

Contributions from the faculty and administration were handled by Margaret Blegen of the publications office.

Regents Approve TC Laboratory School Extension

Extension of the Teachers' college school, a possibility of apartment units on the campus and an invitation to Harold U. Sverdrup, professor of oceanography, to visit here, were matters discussed by the Board of Regents last week.

Rough sketches of the approved extension of the Teacher's college laboratory schools through the 12th grade are now in the hands of Dr. Benjamin Wist, dean of Teachers' college. Designed by Dean Joseph F. Kunesh and Frederick Nichols of the university architectural staff, the buildings will be erected makai of the present intermediate school building.

Money received from Punahou school for the use of Teachers' college building during the war will help pay for the cost of the proposed extension, Dr. Karl Leebrick, university vice president, said. Final plans will be presented to the Board of Regents on Dec. 5 for approval.

Word from President Sinclair on the federal housing administration decision concerning the erection of apartment units on the campus are being awaited by the Board of Regents. Until a telegram is received from President Sinclair, no action will be taken on this matter.

The invitation to Harold U. Sverdrup, professor of oceanography and director of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography, University of California, to come here and see whether there are any possibilities for oceanographic work in Hawaii was sent and a reply from him is expected within the next few days. He will be guest of Edwin Pauley at Coconut Island if he decides to come.

New Snack Bar Popular Spot; Patrons Voice Their Approval

By ROBERT SUYEOKA

Hungry stomachs need no longer growl in classrooms, thanks to the newly opened snack bar in a reconverted army barrack mauka of the swimming pool. Supplementing, and at times even replacing the cafeteria, this establishment is a great improvement over the tiny "cubbyhole" that used to pass for a snack bar last year.

The counter is so constructed that all patrons must fall into an orderly line in order to be served. Just service on a "first-come-first served" basis is thus assured each patron, regardless of his resemblance to Clark Gable or Dracula.

Benches and tables neatly arranged throughout the spacious room afford students a convenient place to chat, study and eat all at the same time.

Being caught short twenty cents of the purchase charge is no longer a dilemma for anyone. A conspicuous price list posted at the entrance of the building enables all persons to figure out the cost before buying anything.

The canteen is operated by four civil service workers under the management of Mrs. Elsie Boatman, cafeteria manager. Cold drinks and sandwiches are served by Miss Nancy Tsuda and Mrs. Margaret Kuon, while Mrs. Mamo Cheek handles the ice cream. The cashier, Miss Edith Kurihara, also takes care of the candy and cigarette section.

Snack bar hours are 8:30 to 11 a.m. and 11:30 to 3:30 daily and 8:30 to 1:00 on Saturdays. "We close the place from 11 to 11:30 because we have to eat, too" said one of the employees.

They also explained that only two persons cannot handle the entire snack bar and the cashier alone is authorized to handle the money.

They ask the students' cooperation in returning all bottles to the cases and refraining from scratch- or sitting on the tables.

Patrons of the snack bar are impressed and gratified by the improvements over last year. Interviewed at random, they remarked:

Harry Mizobe, arts and sciences frosh: "I can study while drinking coffee and smoking a cigarette. That's something you can't do in the library."

Moana Johnson, arts and sciences frosh: "I like the place. It's a good place to go between classes. A juke box would help."

Dr. Ralph Hoeber, assistant professor of economics and business: "My general opinion is favorable. However, there should be some chairs for the young ladies. The students should keep the tables cleaner. With so many artistic students around, why not have murals on the walls to make the place cozy and comfortable? The cashier has too much to do and the lines cannot move fast."

Symphony Orchestra Now Being Formed By Music Department

A symphony orchestra for the university is in the process of organization, Mr. Norman Rian, chairman of the music department announced.

The completion of the orchestra will be determined by the number of students who turn out to play string instruments. Although string instrumentalists are essential, all others are also encouraged to turn out.

Those interested should see Mr. Rian in his office in the music building behind the tennis courts this week. If he is absent, names may be left in the office.

If a complete orchestra cannot be organized, participants will present small ensembles, Mr. Rian said.

Debate, Rhetoric Plans For This Year Revealed

Plans for this year's debate and public speaking activities on the campus are well under way with an oratorical contest, inter-class debates, and varsity debate tryouts scheduled for the first semester, Robert Fukuda, debate head announced recently.

The first event will be the interclass debate trials, to be held on November 5 and 7. The topic selected by the Board of Debate and Forensics for this year's interclass competition is: Resolved: That private language schools in the Territory of Hawaii should be prohibited.

The freshman and sophomore classes will have nine candidates turning out for their teams in the trials. The junior class will have six candidates, and the seniors will have two. Each speaker will be allowed five minutes to speak on any aspect of the question and on either affirmative or negative sides, as he wishes.

The judges will pick a team of two members for each class on the basis of effective debating, taking into consideration such factors as argument, delivery, grasp of the vital issues of the question, reasoning, and style.

On November 12 and 14, the candidates for the varsity debate squad for this year will compete in tryouts. The topic selected for the trials is, Resolved: That the Federal government should require arbitration of labor disputes in all basic American industries.

Nineteen students will vie for places on the squad, and each speaker will be permitted to speak on either side and on any aspect of the question for five minutes. The basis of judging will be the same as in the inter-class tryouts.

The annual all-campus oratorical contest is scheduled for December 1 and 3. Any regular undergraduate of the University of Hawaii is eligible to enter. Seventeen students have notified the Debate board of their desire to enter the contest. Each speaker will be allowed a free choice of topics, a minimum speaking time of five minutes, and a maximum time of eight minutes.

All of these events are ASUH activities and are open to all regular students of the four undergraduate classes. Awards will be given to the winning class debate team members, the first three place winners of the oratorical contest, and the member of the varsity debate team. The Board of Debate and Forensics urges all students interested to participate in any or all of these activities. The four class representatives who may be contacted for details are: Earl Robinson, senior class; Arlene Kim, junior class; Francis McMillen, sophomore class; and

Mary Lou McPherson Hemenway Supervisor

Mrs. Mary Lou McPherson, former USO recreational program director, became new Hemenway hall supervisor yesterday.

She was a former consumer relations officer with the Office of Price Administration. A graduate of Kansas State college, Mrs. McPherson, together with Miss Jane Okamoto, assistant supervisor, will work with the newly elected Hemenway hall Board of Governors in the development of student programs in Hemenway hall.

University To Present New Radio Program On KPOA Nov. 2

The University of Hawaii will inaugurate a new radio program on station KPOA on Sunday, Nov. 2 at 8:30 p. m.

The program entitled, "The University of the Air," will include versions of the Wednesday evening lecture series, dramatic skits by the Theatre Guild, recordings from the Carnegie Music library, instrumental selections, and student activities.

Mr. Thomas Nickerson, University director of publications and publicity, is coordinator. He is assisted by the various department chairmen including Mr. Norman Rian, music and Dr. Joel Trapido, dramatics.

The program will be a regular feature of KPOA each Sunday thereafter from 8:30 to 9 p.m.

Suggestions and criticisms from faculty members and students will be appreciated, according to Mr. Nickerson.

Colorful Aloha Shirts, Muumuus, Expected On Campus Thursday

Whereas: The week of October 26 to November 2 has been designated as Aloha Week and,

Whereas: Even the faculty will be sporting Aloha shirts,

Therefore, Be it resolved: That the ASUH council go on record as encouraging every student to wear his most colorful Aloha shirt during Aloha Week.

* * * *

The above resolution was unanimously passed by the ASUH council at a recent meeting.

On Thursday, October 31, the well-dressed coed on the campus will be wearing a "muumuu' while the kane will be sporting a colorful Aloha shirt.

Numerous prizes will be awarded by the ASUH to members of the faculty and student body for the most colorful, "loud", unusual, and outstanding shirts and muumuus.

Richard Kosaki, ASUH prexy, has issued a special proclamation, setting aside Thursday, October 31, as Muumuu Day, a special university feature of Aloha Week. It will be a day of festivity and merriment, recapturing the spirit of Old Hawaii.

All wahines are urged to make muumuus for that day. The muumuu, according to the Hawaiians, means a woman's slip or undergarment. But the muumuu of today is an informal frock, slightly resembling a sack which has an opening at the neck and arms.

The making of a muumuu is a matter of minutes. Less than three

The college of arts and sciences boasts 2,206 members, Teachers' college, 400; applied science, 428; agriculture college, 188; and graduate division, 198 members.

There are 1509 men and 697 women in arts and sciences; 342 men and 86 women in applied sciences, 74 men and 326 women in Teachers' college, 85 men and 103 women in agriculture college.

Heizer To Speak On How To Study

Freshmen will have the opportunity to learn how to study when Mrs. Pauline Heizer, assistant professor of zoology, and Mr. Harold Bitner, men's counselor, speak at different sessions at Hemenway hall this week.

Mrs. Heizer will speak from 1:30 to 2:00 p.m. on Thursday after which a time for questions from the floor will be alloted. Refreshments will be provided by Teachers' college social committee members.

Mr. Bitner will speak from 2:00 to 3:00 p.m. on Friday. The hour will be managed similiar to that of Mrs. Heizer's.

The two sessions scheduled this week will formally initiate the freshman orientation program planned by Teachers' college club members and will be followed up through out the semester.

Chairman of this phase of the program is Janet Saito, senior. Her helpers are Masaji Takeuchi, Helen Oshima, Hideko Kiyokawa and Mitzi Sakamoto.

Ames Speaks Tomorrow On Philosophy in Fiction

Dr. Van Meter Ames, well-known author and visiting professor of philosophy, will speak tomorrow night on "Philosophy in Fiction" at 8:00 p.m. in Farrington hall.

The University of Cincinnati professor is author of Aesthetics of the Novel, Introduction to Beauty, Out of Iowa (poem), Proust and Santayana, and Andre Gide. He is co-author of Understanding the World, an introduction to Philosophy.

His lecture will be second in the Wednesday evening lecture series sponsored by the University of Hawaii. No admission fee will be charged and the public is invited to attend.

These lectures are a series of presentations by distinguished visiting educators and members of the resident faculty.

Rainbows Clash With Kaialums Tomorrow Nite

The University of Hawaii Rainbows tackle the Kaimuki-alums tomorrow, Wednesday night, at 7:30 p.m. at the Honolulu Stadium.

The Kaimuki-alums of the Hawaii Football League promise razzle-dazzle football with their smaller team and will probably take to aerial invasion of Rainbow territory in attempts to score. The Rainbows, sporting a heavier line and fast backfield, will be favored.

Sol Kaulukukui, quarterback, may or may not be in the starting line-up, depending on the condition of his wrenched arm, but he will be ready for the Leilehua game.

Line-pounding center, Bob Shibuya is still nursing his leg, but hopes to be in for the "game of the season" with Leilehua.

This exhibition game will show how well the Rainbows can stack against the "team to beat" next week. May we add that students, faculty, band and cheer and song leaders are cordially invited to attend?

FOOTBALL KICKING NOTICE..

The Barefoot football kicking scheduled for this week has been postponed until next week, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, at 12:30 on Wise Field.

There will be three divisions for kicking, 140 pounds and under; 140 pounds and over, and open (for varsity football players). The first day, Monday, will have barefoot punting, the next, Tuesday, drop kicking, and Wednesday, place kicking.

Gold medals will be awarded to first place winners in each of the three divisions and silver medals to the runnerups.

Call Out For New Varsity Sport, Rowing; Meeting

Tomorrow, Wednesday, Oct. 29 at 12:30 in Dr. D'Eliscu's office, there will be a meeting of all the students interested in forming rowing teams. The University owns two rowing "shells" and will be able to get the use of others if needed. Arrangements have also been made for a coach, and suggested practices will not start until after the six-weeks exams are over.

Experience is not needed for aspirants, only a willing strong back and some interest. Don't forget, tomorrow, Oct. 29 in Dr. D'Eliscu's office in the Athletic Department Building.

Michigan State-UH Tickets Are Ready

The Michigan-State, University of Hawaii football game tickets will be distributed on November 12, 13, 14 and 15 at the rear of the Athletic Department Headquarters.

Student tickets are for sections 36, 37, 38, 39, 40 and on the above mentioned dates, will be handed out on presentation of athletic activity books.

Col. D'Eliscu has announced that he will be able to accommodate 300 persons with seats in Sections 18, of which there are 50 tickets; section 14, with 150 seats; section 5 with 50 seats and section 7 with 50. These tickets cannot be reserved. Persons wishing to buy them must go personally to the ticket seller on the aforementioned date.

All faculty, their wives, ASUH members and their wives wishing to purchase activity booklets must get them at once from the Colonel's office. This will be the last chance to get them. This includes all students who have not gotten theirs.

Richard Kosaki, ASUH president, has announced that a bloc of tickets for the best section in the UH stands will be reserved for a special cheering section. Anyone can join this cheering group. Notice will appear in Ka Leo later.

There are also 2000 tickets for the Alumni members who are handling their own distribution.

All tickets not handed out to students will be returned to the Stadium officials for distribution. Don't forget, November 12, 13, 14 and 15.

Junior Varsity Footballers Beat McKinley Vets 12-7

Coach Francis Aiwohi's Junior Varsity Rainbows splashed to a 12 to 7 victory over the McKinley Hi veterans team on Saturday afternoon at Cooke Field.

"Mountain winds and showers refreshed the fertile lands" the whole morning before the 2:00 p.m. game and Cooke field was a duck pond by game time. Referee for the scrimmage match was Tony Morse, head linesman, Col. "Dely" d'Eliscu and John Dang and Andrew Choo, line markers.

The enemy drew first blood in the first quarter by scooping up a fumble on the 50 and scooting over the end zone, making the conversion.

In the second half ground gaining line smashes by Wally Wong, former Iolani halfback, Rock Sugino, Maui boy, and Joe Oba, fullback converted from tackle and formerly of Iolani Hi, ploughed the way through the mud for the Rainbows' first tally. It was Wally Wong over left tackle from the 2 yard line who scored. Bobby Crowell came in for the attempted conversion but the wet ball squirted away for no count.

The other score came in the last stanza on a blocked kick, which went into the end zone where a Rainbow recovered.

Standouts in the game were Bill Bonner and Alva Kamalani, vicious man mountain tackles and Toshi Tenno and James Tsuda, guards. The contest was strictly limited to ground offenses, with a minimum of fumbles.

Lineup for the Rainbows:

Arthur Fitzimmons, center, from Kamehameha; Toshio Tenno, guard from Farrington; James Tsuda, guard, from Hilo Hi; Alvo Kamalani, tackle, from Kamehameha; Bill Bonner, tackle, from Roosevelt; Francis Lum, end, from Iolani; Lionel Brash, end, Roosevelt; Rocky Sugino, right half, Baldwin; Wally Wong, left half, Iolani; Joe Oba, fullback, Farrington; and Bill Coleman, quarterback.

Cross-Country Run Aspirants Meeting Wed.

For barrel-chested, horse winded, fleet-footed young men.

The Turkey Day Cross-Country race to be held on November 26 is an annual affair for the Thanksgiving Holidays. Each year, the measured course, roughly about 2 miles is run over by dozens of prize-loving students. This year, the procedure will be the same, prizes for the first ten or more over the up and down hill course.

Wednesday, Oct. 9, the intramural cross-country-run enthusiasts will meet in the locker room by the gymnasium (boxing stables). Student manager of this sport, Benjamin Liu has called this meeting for 12:30 to discuss immediate training and the general organization of the group.

All students interested in cross country and long distance running are asked to attend this meeting. If it is impossible at this time, contact Ben Liu.

Joseph Regala, the Pre-Legal choir, Charles Davis and others will be featured on the program. Francis McMillen will be master of ceremonies of the informal gathering which is being sponsored for the purpose of publicizing the party to be held on November 1 at Hemenway hall from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m.

All faculty members are especially invited to attend the party. Complimentary tickets may be picked up at Miss Jane Okamoto's desk in Hemenway hall.

The all-male Pre-Legal choir dressed in Aloha shirts will be featured on the program. Other numbers will include individual and group talents on the campus. Refreshments, dancing, and games will follow the program.

Harriet Wong and Tai Choy Yim are co-chairmen of the house-party. Assisting them will be Lorna Chun and Louella Plumley, refreshments; Wai Win Seto, entertainment; Alvin Shim, music; Donald Hina and Takeshi Harada, tickets; Sohei Yamate and Harry Tamura, publicity; and Bill Amona, clean-up.

Student tickets for the party may be bought from any member of the Pre-Legal club for 25 cents.

ICC Meeting . . .

All inter-club council members and club presidents are reminded to attend the next business meeting of the council at noon on Wednesday, October 29, in the ASUH council room. Picture for Ka Palapala will be taken at this time.

Rooms for Vets . . .

The Veteran's Adviser's office announces that there are a few vacancies in the Veteran's Housing unit on the campus. Non-veterans may apply. About thirty places are available to single male students. Rent is $10 for single rooms and $7.50 for double rooms.

Snack Bar . . .

George Malama, arts and sciences frosh: "The service is slow. There should be a better way of disposing of bottles."

Daisy Wong, TC frosh: "The sandwiches cost too much. Everything else is fine."

Robert Katayama, arts and sciences sophomore: "There's too much noise in there but I guess it can't be helped. Maybe they can serve salads and other cold plates there, too."

General satisfaction is noted by all. Latest reports indicate that malts, milk shakes and sundaes will soon be on the menu board.

The snack bar is going a big way, in keeping with the growth of faculty, students, and the campus. We'll leave that dream of a marble-lined counter and booths with smiling waitresses for a while.

EDIT NOTES

Seniors are warned

that deadlines for making appointments with the photographer will be up soon. Ka Palapala informs us that portraits not taken before mid-November at the Tajima studio on University Ave. will be left out of the yearbook.

Each senior should take it upon himself to handle his own affairs. No one, not even the president of the senior class, will beg him to do anything, much less do it for him.

Information blanks, filled out with the correct names, addresses and activities, must be returned to the Ka Palapala office.

Cooperation is needed for a good yearbook out on time.

Aloha Shirts

are in order for the week. Faculty and students participating in the Jaycee Oldtimers program on the campus, are sporting aloha shirts. Evidence points to better comfort and informality in the classrooms.

Ka Leo is wholehearted in its promotion of Aloha Week activities. However, there's something about an instructor in a smart suit.

Congratulations to the members of the University Theatre Guild for their first production of the year. Expectations for coming productions, based on "Hay Fever" are enthusiastically voiced by all.

Students are urged to participate in one of the most exciting and worthwhile activities on the campus.

Tomorrow night

the Rainbows take on the Kaimuki Alumni team at the stadium. A school spirit committee organized by the YMCA has sent out a call to all students attending the game, to sit togeher and encourage the team vocally.

Join them in the bleachers "where the noise is the mostest."

* * * * *

Which brings us

to an interesting point. Going through the exchange files, we note that the most popular topic for college publication editorials are School Spirit and Women's Skirts. It seems every school has the same problem in urging students to make more noise. Thus far, every paper (with men editors) taking up the skirt problem has voiced a vehement disapproval of low hemlines.

* * * * *

are encouraged when they concern students driving their way toward the University each morning. It's not difficult to recognize a fellow student headed this way and a slow down to the curb will be appreciated by all.

We direct this particularly to the lone-rider cars driving up University Ave. between 8:20 to 8:30. How about it?

* * * * *

between faculty and students promised to be highlights of this year, from all indications at the end of last semester. The YMCA started a series which looked like they would last and grow into something.

Student-teacher relations are responsible for the better part of college success. Discussion periods or bull sessions proved educational as well as entertaining.

How about an enterprising organization beginning such a series?

German Students Desire UH Correspondents

"I Have Always Had A Soft Spot In My Heart For The Islands . . ." Writes German Student

ASUH prexy Richard Kosaki has received several letters from German students who are interested in corresponding with UH students.

The following are excerpts from their letters:

"This is a letter of a German student of economics, enrolled at the University of Cologne. The purpose of my letter is to get contact with a member of your university, perhaps a student of economics like myself, but not at all necessary, who is willing to have a correspondence.

"The reason to choose your islands as the country for the correspondence in question is that I always had a "soft spot" in my heart for them especially what regards her population, her geographical position and — last not least — her culture.

Under present traffice conditions such a distance around half the world cannot be considered an important obstacle against the exchanging of letters.

"I will not deny the fact of the past war, especially that we have been defeated by you (the United States of America), but an important part of real peacemaking consists, I think, of putting aside the mental isolation we here are suffering from at present. The fact of the past war must not be a constant obstacle against good relations between members of different nations, for the chief basis for a lasting peace is not in first place a strong army, but a good understanding based upon esteem and knowledge of each other.

"As to my person the following: 29 years, unmarried, diploma of Economics, expectant now of Dr.'s degree, Christian (Catholic church).

This Is No Picnic

Getting out this little rag is no picnic.
If we print jokes people say we are silly;
If we don't they say we are too serious.
If we clip things from other newspapers . . .
We are too lazy to write them ourselves,
If we don't we are too fond of our own stuff.
If we don't print contributions
We don't appreciate true genius;
If we print them the rag is full of junk.
If we make a change in the other person's write-up
We are too critical.
If we don't we are asleep.
Now like as not some will say
We swiped this from some other rag . . .
WE DID.

Loyalty In The School

Henry Steele Commager, professor of history at Columbia University, is the author of the article "Who Is Loyal To America?" which appeared in a recent issue of Harper's magazine. The following excerpt is from the very timely article.

On May 6, a Russian-born girl, Mrs. Shura Lewis, gave a talk to the students of the Western High School of Washington, D.C. She talked about Russia—its school system, its public health program, the position of women, of the aged, of the workers, the farmers, and the professional classes—and compared, superficially and uncritically, some American and Russian social institutions. The most careful examination of the speech—happily reprinted for us in the Congressional Record—does not disclose a single disparagement of anything American unless it is a quasi-humorous reference to the cost of having a baby and of dental treatment in this country. Mrs. Lewis said nothing that had not been said a thousand times, in speeches, in newspapers, magazines and books. She said nothing that any normal person could find objectionable.

Her speech, however, created a sensation. A few students walked out on it. Others improvised placards proclaiming their devotion to Americanism. Indignant mothers telephoned their protests. Newspapers took a strong stand against the outrage. Congress, rarely concerned for the political or economic welfare of the citizens of the capital city, reacted sharply when its intellectual welfare was at stake. Congressmen Rankin and Dirksen thundered and lightened; the District of Columbia Committee went into a huddle; there were demands for housecleaning in the whole school system, which was obviously shot through and through with Communism.

All this might be ignored, for we have learned not to expect either intelligence or understanding from this element in our Congress. More ominous was the reaction of the educators entrusted with the high responsibility of guiding and guarding the intellectual welfare of our boys and girls. Did they stand up for intellectual freedom? Did they insist that high-school children had the right and the duty to learn about other countries? Did they protest that students were to be trusted to use intelligence and common sense? Did they affirm that the Americanism of their students was staunch enough to resist propaganda? Did they perform even the elementary task, expected of educators above all, of analyzing the much-criticized speech?

Not at all. The District Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Hobart Corning, hastened to agree with the animadversions of Representatives Rankin and Dirksen. The whole thing was, he confessed, "a very unfortunate occurrence," and had "shocked the whole school system." What Mrs. Lewis said, he added gratuitously, was "repugnant to all who are working with youth in the Washington schools," and "the entire affair contrary to the philosophy of education under which we operate." Mr. Danowsky, the hapless principal of the Western High School, was "the most shocked and regretful of all." The District of Columbia Committe would be happy to know that though he was innocent in the matter, he had been properly reprimanded!

It is the reaction of the educators that makes this episode more than a tempest in a teapot. We expect hysteria from Mr. Rankin and some of the newspapers; we are shocked when we see educators, timid before criticism and confused about first principles, betray their trust. And we wonder what can be that "philosophy of education" which believes that young people can be trained to the duties of citizenship by wrapping their minds in cottonwool.

From Our Exchange . . .

(Son asking Pop about matrimony . . .)

"Matrimony? That's an institution in which a man loses his Bachelor's degree, and his wife acquires a Master's."

The best we've heard on the long skirt scare is the blase retort given by a male student when quizzed about his opinion on the downward trend, "Heck they can make 'em as long as they wanta for my part, I've got a good memory!"

And now we can tell our perennial gag about the young veteran who, when asked by his professor why he was enrolled in this particular course in Economics, answered "So I can learn to live on $65 a month."

Then there's the report that men's trousers cuffs are on the upgrade. That is, next season's fashion fop is liable to be sporting cuffs four inches below the knee and trimmed in black silk. Gad! Personally, we long for the return of plus-fours and knee britches, the price of pressing being what it is.

DAILY ATHENAEUM.

Joe Told Me...

BY BETTY OKAZAKI

Joe took me to the ASUH office the other day and explained its various services as headquarters of student government. Council meetings are held there and are open to any one interested in observing. Regular council meetings are held on Wednesday mornings at 7:30.

For information on student activities, clubs, and general affairs of the government, Joe told me that the ASUH office is the place to go. The handbook, schedule of courses, campus maps, and other useful pamphlets are kept there.

Every student is welcome to look over the office, to go there for information, and to attend meetings, but Joe said that we must be careful and not abuse our privileges.

Joe also took me to the reserve room of the library and explained its policies. Joe told me that many freshmen are confused by the separation of the main library and the reserve library. The reserve section of the library is the little room located right behind the main library.

The time limit on books drawn out varies with the demand for them. There are books that may be borrowed overnight, over weekends, and others, for an hour. The over night books may be taken out only after 3 p.m., and must be returned by 8:30 the following morning. Weekend books may be taken out after 10:30 Saturday morning.

Failure to return reserve books on time will cost the borrower twenty-five cents an hour, or a fraction thereof! Twenty-five cents an hour, I told Joe, was just too much to be charging for overdue books.
