HB 1714 would provide certain minor but significant amendments to the law concerning historic places. This statement on the bill does not reflect an institutional position of the University of Hawaii.

Where the present law relates to historic properties "listed in the Hawaii register of historic places," with the proposed amendments it would relate to such properties "included in or eligible for inclusion" in the register. The effect would be to apply the provisions of the law to places that are being considered for inclusion in the official register but for which all actions necessary for the inclusion have not been completed. We consider the proposed amendment appropriate.
The attached statement on SB 1714-84 is equally applicable to the companion bill, HB 2076-84.
