“The land must be getting excited we’re doing this”:
Wellbeing, Identity, and Reclaiming Language
Through Connection to the Land

Twitter: @C_Schreyer
Email: Christine.Schreyer@ubc.ca

Christine Schreyer, University of British Columbia, Okanagan
5th International Conference on Language Documentation and Conservation
University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa, March 2nd, 2017
TAKU RIVER TLINGIT FIRST NATION

"It is the Land from which we come that connects all life. Our Land is our lifeblood. Our Land looks after us, and we look after our Land. Anything that happens to Tlingit Land affects us and our culture."

T.R.T.E.N. CONSTITUTION 2.3
Ph. 250-651-7615

Ha Tlatki-Ha kustiyi (Our Land, Our way of life)

We welcome you to our territory & request that you proceed with respect.
Gunalchéesh to the members of the Taku River Tlingit for welcoming me into their community and helping me learn about their land.

Financial Support provided by:
The University of British Columbia and SSHRC

Twitter: @C_Schreyer
Email: christine.schreyer@ubc.ca