Council OK's Medal Awards For '34 Team

Football Men Honored; Lettermen Listed; Publications Contracts Approved

At its first meeting of the new year held last Saturday afternoon in the student union building, the ASUH student council voted to give singular gold awards to the 18 lettermen of the 1934 varsity football team which finished its season undefeated.

Jack Johnson, captain of the team and a student council member, will choose the awards for the team. It is expected that each medal will cost about $10.

At the meeting, Johnson proposed that all players who remained with the team throughout the season be given letters, but the council by a 7-4 vote limited the awards to lettermen. However, George Aki and Masao Sone, each of whom lacked only one minute of playing time to qualify for a letter, were later included in the group to receive gold awards.

Two Manager's Awards

In approving the list of candidates for letters, as recommended by Coach Otto Klum, the council also awarded two manager's letters, to John Sullivan and Mark Norman Olds. Olds, head manager, left for Washington, D. C., in mid-December, and Sullivan, his assistant, finished out the season.

Capt. Donald M. Bartow, professor of military science and tactics, appeared before the council to ask that the ASUH give standard Warrior of the Pacific medal awards to those ROTC cadets who earn the rating of "expert rifleman" at the University ROTC summer camp. The council approved the suggestion, and will soon offer the necessary by-laws for amendment at an ASUH meeting or election.

The report of the board of publications recommending that The Printshop Co., Ltd., 821 Alakea street, be awarded the printing contract for the 1935 Ka Palapala was accepted by the council. The council also awarded the engraving contract of the yearbook to the Mid-Pacific Photo-Engraving Co., 16 Merchant street.

Election Results OK'd

Results of the primary election to choose a candidate to fill the office of ASUH vice-president were certified by the student legislature. Arthur Chun, with 82 votes, and George Kai, with 81, were designated as the ones to run in the final election.

Curtis Heen, ASUH president, suggested that there should be an ASUH sinking fund. Dr. Donald W. Rowland, student council adviser, recommended that the president appoint a committee to investigate the possibilities of the suggestion. On the committee appointed are Frank Hustace, Worcester Hodgman, Curtis Heen, and Theodore Searle, graduate manager.

As its last order of business, the council appropriated $116 to refurbish the ASUH room in the student union building. It is expected that the refurbishing will be done before the opening of the second semester. The four class presidents and Georgina Cooper, AWS president, were appointed as a committee to regulate use of the room.

Debate Teams in Final Encounter

Before sailing for the Mainland last Friday, members of the University of California debate team clashed with the University of Hawaii team in a no-decision debate on Thursday night at the Mission Memorial hall.

The subject of debate was, "Resolved, that Hawaii should be admitted to the Union as a state." The contest was put on a no-decision basis because of the controversial nature of the subject.

Robert North and Edward Berman represented Hawaii against Lawrence Mullally and Stanley Johnson of California.

The University of Hawaii was victorious in the other two debates of the series of three, North and Clarence Chang winning the first debate, and Berman and Fred Neal, the second.

President's Annual Report for 1934 Shows Good UH Record

That the University of Hawaii made a good record in 1934 and in many ways enriched the life of the Territory was stated by Pres. David L. Crawford in his annual report published recently. Pres. Crawford feels that the record of the University is exceptionally good, in view of a territorial budget cut of nearly 50 per cent for the 1933-35 biennium.

The report showed that more than 3000 persons enrolled in the University, either as regular, graduate, evening, extension, or summer session students.

The total income of the University for the past fiscal year amounted to $615,682, as against an expenditure total of $627,952. Only 35 per cent of the expense of running the University was met by territorial appropriation, while student fees and non-governmental sources contributed 46 per cent. The federal government's share in the upkeep of the University was 19 per cent.

Many Research Projects

Pres. Crawford reported that one-sixth of the University's budget is applied to research projects. A total of 100 such studies were listed by Pres. Crawford, with 38 being in agriculture and 17 in race relations.

In reviewing the list of lectures during the year, Pres. Crawford pointed out that a strong visiting faculty in the summer session gave a series of 10 free public lectures. Newton Bell, Dr. Kenneth Saunders, Upton Close, William Hendrick van Loon, Charles C. Batchelder, John Hazeldel Levis, Branson de Cou, and other prominent men also appeared as speakers at the University.

Pres. Crawford pointed out that an adequately large auditorium is now the University's greatest building need.

3 Deputation Teams Picked

Van Brocklin, Neal, Ching to Lead Atherton Groups

Personnel of the three deputation teams to be sent to Kauai and Hawaii during the inter-semester recess were announced Tuesday by Lloyd R. Killam, Charles Atherton House association adviser. A total of 19 Atherton association members will comprise the three teams.

Led by Vincent Van Brocklin, Atherton association president, the first team will leave for Kohala on Wednesday, Jan. 23, at 5:00 p. m. on the S. S. Kilauea, arriving in Hilo the next day. The team will sail back to Honolulu from Hilo on Thursday, Jan. 31. A second team, led by Fred Neal, will leave and return on the same boat.

Kohala, Hilo Teams

Hamilton Yap, Harry Zen, Malcolm Moore, Abe Akaka, and Don Brown will be in the team under Van Brocklin, while Bob Hughes, Doak Cox, Merlin Eisenbise, and Arnold Hobbes will be in Neal's group.

The third team, which will tour the island of Kauai, will be led by Francis Ching. The group, largest of the three, has as its other members, Kenneth Lau, David Wong, Francis Wai, Tokuji Kubota, James Doo, Stanley Bento, and William Kawahara.

The Kauai team will leave Honolulu on Thursday, Jan. 24, at 9:00 p. m. on the S. S. Waialeale, arriving in Lihue the next day. It will return to Honolulu on Wednesday, Jan. 30.

In their tours of the other islands, the association teams will combine pleasant sightseeing trips with a series of programs to be given at various churches, clubs, and schools.

The work of sending deputation teams to the outside islands formerly was carried on by the University YMCA.

CHANGES IN EXAMS

To accommodate the large number of students who wish to attend the football game on Saturday afternoon, certain changes have been made in the final examination schedule. Students are advised to consult the glass-enclosed registrar's bulletin board in Hawaii hall for the official exam schedule.

New Semester to Open January 30

Registration for the second semester, 1934-35, will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 29, with first classes of the new semester meeting on Jan. 30.

Final examinations at the University officially begin tomorrow and continue until Thursday, Jan. 24. Any student having four final exams scheduled for the same day is requested to see Miss Helen B. MacNeil, registrar, for a change of schedule.

Ag Expert to Come to UH

Howry B. Warner to Assist in Island Extension Work

Howry B. Warner, an expert in practical marketing, will arrive in Honolulu next month to assist the University agricultural extension service in solving a number of marketing problems confronting local agriculture.

Pres. David L. Crawford and Dr. Frederick G. Krauss, director of the extension service, met Warner recently in Los Angeles, and made provisions for his coming to Hawaii.

At one time Warner worked with the Federal marketing bureau and with the extension service of California. For the last 10 years he has been engaged in commercial marketing on the Pacific Coast, with the distribution of fruit and vegetable crops as his specialty.

After coming to the University of Hawaii, Warner will assist A. S. T. Lund, extension economist and marketing specialist, and Dr. Krauss. It is expected that he will make a thorough study of production and marketing problems in the Territory, giving most of his time to problems arising out of local selling and exporting to the Mainland.

In announcing the retention of Warner on the extension division staff, Pres. Crawford said that he was acting in line with the University's program to stimulate local agriculture and to increase the demand for local products.

Classes Work On Plays for '35 Tourney

Theta Alpha Phi Plaque Again To Be Awarded for Best One-Act Productions

The plays to be presented by the senior and junior classes in competition for the Theta Alpha Phi one-act play plaque have been chosen by the class directors, and work on them will start next month. Belden Lyman, president of the University Theatre Guild and in charge of the tournament, asks that the sophomore and freshman classes notify him of their chosen plays.

Under the direction of Paul Jarrett and Campbell Stevenson, both experienced Theatre Guild actors, the junior class will present four plays early in March. "A Game of Chess", "The Pot Boiler", and "Sham" have already been chosen by this class of thespians, while a Japanese play will be selected later.

The Seniors will present three plays, probably late in February or early in March. "The Valiant", Caucasian play, will be enacted with William Mueller as the director. Raymond Tan and Raymond Won will be co-directors of a Chinese play, yet unchosen, while Osamu Hirota will direct a Japanese play, also unchosen as yet.

Last year the series of "class nights" on which the plays were performed were well received. The present junior class won the Theta Alpha Phi plaque with its performances of "The Minuet", "The Gooseberry Mandarin", and "Where the Cross Is Made". Margaret Bairos, Moana Peterson, and Robert Brilliande were the class directors.

Next Ka Leo Issue Will Appear Feb. 7

Kuykendall Is Article Writer

History Professor Writes for Coast Review Journal

Ralph S. Kuykendall, assistant professor of history in the University, is the author of an article, "Early Hawaiian Commercial Development," published in the December issue of the Pacific Historical Review.

In his writing for the coast journal, Prof. Kuykendall advanced the thesis that the Americanization of the Hawaiian Islands was well under way more than 100 years ago. He pointed out that American influence in Hawaii came as the result of contact with Yankee sailing ships which stopped here for refreshment and trade. Furs, sandalwood, and whale oil were the three chief commodities of commerce before 1830. Prof. Kuykendall states in his article, "Hawaii was then as now at the cross-roads of the north Pacific; in that sailing ship era its importance as a way station was even greater than it is today," he says.

Speaking of the period around 1830, Prof. Kuykendall concludes, "The Americanization of Hawaii was well under way; British influence had been superseded by American influences. To this result American traders had made an important contribution, a contribution exceeded only by that of the American missionaries."

Act one, "The University," will be edited by Elizabeth Wong, a freshman who had her journalistic training on Maui. She was editor of the weekly at Maui High and also one of the editors of the annual. She will be assisted by Peace Tan, one of the editors of last year's book.

Kenneth Bull, a member of the staff of last year's Ka Leo and at present a member of the editorial board on the same publication, will edit act two, "Hawaii Life." He will be assisted by Andrew Wong, Russell Vierra, Richard Fujii, Willard Gray, Edward Hustace, Paul Jarrett, and Steward Ruley. Kenneth Furnidge is in charge of campus snapshots.

Many Attend Two Talkie Showings

Near-capacity crowds enjoyed two showings of "Poil de Carotte," a French talking moving picture, in Farrington hall on Tuesday night. The performances were sponsored by the University extension division, under the supervision of Miss Mabel Vernon.

The dialogue in the picture was entirely in French, but English titles were shown below each scene throughout the movie.

Before the performance of the picture, Hon. Irving O. Pecker, French consul and professor of French at the University, gave an introductory explanation of the novel on which the picture was based.

It is expected that the University extension division will sponsor a number of other foreign talkies.

Cockett's choice came with the unanimous consent of his team mates. In his first two campaigns, Cockett was picked as an all-star forward. Last year he slumped, but this year with the responsibility of leading a championship contending team, much is expected from him.

Army Captain in Speech to ROTC

With "The Battle of Gettysburg" as his topic, Capt. Kenneth Althaus, Assistant G-2, of Fort Shaftler, conducted a freshman military history conference on Monday in Gartley hall.

Maps of the territory surrounding Gettysburg, together with a graph of the organization of both the Confederate and the Union armies, aided in depicting the methods of attack used in this major battle.

Capt. Althaus stated that one of the lessons learned in the Gettysburg conflict was the importance of giving commands correctly.

Exactly 135 of 283 Cornell university freshmen women included in a recent survey have parents who are college graduates.

Adolph "Duffie" Mendonca, 195-pound star tackle of the 1935 University of Hawaii football "wonder team," last week was elected to captain the Rainbow varsity for the 1935 season which opens in the coming September. He succeeds Capt. Jack Johnson, star halfback and punter.

Mendonca started playing football at St. Louis college, and earned his first Rainbow letter in the 1933 season. He is a student in engineering.

For the past two years Mendonca has been the most consistent player on the Dean eleven, each year playing more minutes than any other player. He ended the 1934 season by being the only Hawaii man to play 60 minutes against the University of California.

Mat Team May Be Sent on Hilo Trip

University wrestlers may have a chance to go to Hilo if negotiations now being considered by "Pump" Searle and Daiji Kobatake, last year's wrestling team manager, materialize. Kobatake is now in Hilo where he and Albert Nahale-a are trying to work up interest in the grappling game.

Arrangements may be made, according to Coach Pedro Choy and Searle, to send either the champions of each division or the champions and the runners-up.

Due to the exams, wrestling practice has been postponed until after the tests. The "rasslers" are asked to report immediately on the first Monday after the second semester opens.

Dr. Felix M. Keesing, assistant professor of anthropology in the University, recently was appointed an informal adviser to the United States office of Indian affairs, according to word received in Honolulu.

Dr. Keesing's being called for consultation is in line with the New Deal policy of investigating the feasibility of giving greater self-government control to American Indian tribes, as provided under the Wheeler-Howard act.

Did you ever notice..in a roomful of people..the difference between one cigarette and another..and wonder why Chesterfields have such a pleasing aroma

Many things have to do with the aroma of a cigarette... the kind of tobaccos they are made of... the way the tobaccos are blended... the quality of the cigarette paper.

IT takes good things to make good things.

Someone said that to get the right aroma in a cigarette, you must have the right quantity of Turkish tobacco—and that's right.

But it is also true that you get a pleasing aroma from the home-grown tobaccos... tobaccos filled with Southern Sunshine, sweet and ripe.

When these tobaccos are all blended and cross-blended the Chesterfield way, balanced one against the other, you get a flavor and fragrance that's different from other cigarettes.
