

Earth and water, air and fire / Milky Way to murky mire / North to South and East to West / Let the Wind be raked from rest / Over land and over sea, send the Wind here to me.

What type of tree is growing out of my head?
Draw my branches and leaves!

Which song goes with which wind? North, West, South

I'll Be There

When your feathery friends seeks a southerly clime
When a bear in a lair knows it's slumbering time
When it's Fall migration
And hibernation
I'll be there

Relax-i-fy Relax-i-fy

Untax-i-fy your muscles and relax-i-fy
Find a distant destination
For your nervous agitation
Give that useless aggravation a break
And just relax-i-fy

When the temperature drops to twenty two
When your lips and your fingertips turn blue
When your toes get frozen
And Winter blows in
I'll be there

You can bet you're all wet if you let a little upset
Make you fret or forget where you're goin'
What to do is to brew up a brand new thought or two
And review any clue that is showin'

I'll be there, I'll be there
Get out your long underwear - I'll be there
Better button up tight
When the weather's a fright
And the snowflakes are combing your hair

Why don't you comfor-tize
Refridgerize the tussles and you'll comfor-tize
When there's cause for irritation
When there's too much tribulation
When your heart needs syncopation lest it quake

When you shake at the knees from the nip in the breeze
I'll be there

Why don't you comfor-tize
You need to sooth-i-cate
And just relax-i-fy

_____ Wind

_____ Wind

Beware the Thought...

Beware the thought that takes no thought to think
Don't jump to any false or perilous conclusions
Remember fools rush in where angels fear to tread
All the world's a stage and filled with many optical illusions

Haste makes waste, so I've been told,
You can miss your opportunity of ya blink
Don't let your temper heat, don't let your feet get cold
Or your hope flies out the window and your ship might sink

They say to look before you leap is wise
To bite off more than you can chew is not too clever
Remember life is filled with blessings in disguise
Beware the thought that takes no thought to think or stay a fool forever.

_____ Wind

Let the Wind be raked from rest / Over land and over sea, send the Wind here to me. Earth and road from "Once upon a time..." to "...happily ever after." It's a bumpy road from "Once upon a time..."

KENNEDY THEATRE 2000-2001 SEASON
MAINSTAGE

No One Will Marry a Princess With a Tree Growing Out of Her Head

A decorative illustration of three leaves, likely representing the 'Leaves' mentioned in the text. The leaves are stylized with simple outlines and some internal vein detail. They are arranged in a small cluster, with one leaf at the top left, one in the middle, and one at the bottom right.

Choreographer Gregg Lizenbery

Costume Designer Sandra Finney

Properties Masters James M. Davenport, Kelly Berry

A decorative illustration of three leaves, one light green and two darker green, arranged in a cluster.

Gimlet Moses Goods

The Court Duffy Ford, Megan Mount.

Michael Valentine, Kelly Williams

The Princess Tara Melia Hunt

The Prime Minister Michael Lono Hanuna

East Wind Koken Mitchell Goo

The West Wind Kelly Williams

The North Wind Kelli Melson

North Wind Guards Duffy Ford, Megan Mount

The South Wind Stephanie Sanchez

For large print programs or program information in alternative forms, please contact the House Manager, or call Kennedy Theatre Box Office at 956-7655 (v/t).

Please remember that smoking, eating, drinking, photography and/or video recording are not permitted in the auditorium. Please turn off or silence all pagers, cell phones or digital watches during the performance.