Introduction

On October 26, 1909, An Chunggŭn assassinated Itō Hirobumi, the former Japanese resident general of Korea, in Harbin, China. An was arrested, tried, and sentenced to death by a Japanese court, and executed on March 26 (March 25 in Hawai‘i), 1910, in Ruisoon prison in China.

When Koreans in Hawai‘i heard about the assassination of Itō and An’s trial, they collected funds for his defense from December 1909 through March 1910. During that four-month period, 1,595 Koreans contributed $2,921 (equivalent to $60,000 in 2001) in donations of 25 cents to $15. The list of donors is included in Daedong wein An Chunggŭn jon (Biography of the Great An Chunggŭn), which was published in August 1911 in Honolulu.

The biography, written in Korean, is a 6.5 x 9.5-inch bound booklet published by Sin Hangukbo (The United Korean News). The first sixteen pages contain a biography of An written by Hong Chong Pyo, editor of Sin Hangukbo. An’s life and his assassination of Itō, trial, and death are described in detail. This appears to be the first biography written about An and the only one published in North America. In the last paragraph of the biography, Hong added that An’s death occurred on Good Friday (March 25, 1910), the date Jesus was crucified. Hong cited various articles on An in major newspapers in New York (Sun), Chicago (Evening Post), Vancouver (World Daily), and Honolulu (Liberty?).

The second part of the booklet is a nine-page list of donors by island and by plantation village or organization. A total of $2,921 was collected from the four major islands:

Kaua‘i:	$1,126.70 from 478 Koreans
O‘ahu:	$738.25 from 446 Koreans
Maui:	$439.20 from 236 Koreans
Hawai‘i:	$616.85 from 435 people
Total:	$2,921. from 1,595 people.

Fifteen Korean prisoners on O‘ahu and one Chinese friend in South Kona, Island of Hawai‘i, also participated in the fundraising.

The biography is important from the following points of view. First, this is the earliest biography written about An and the only one written in North America. It was long believed that the biography written by Changhaenobangja (Park Eun Shik) in 1912 and published in 1914 in Shanghai was the earliest, but Hong’s is at least one year older than Park’s. Secondly, Hong’s biography is written in Korean, while Park wrote in Chinese. Third, Hong’s biography includes the list of those who contributed money toward An’s defense.

The donor list is valuable because it shows that the Korean community in Hawai‘i held an official fundraising for a patriotic cause. The fundraising for An was the second such project, the first having been on February 19, 1909, after the news had spread that Japan would soon take over Korea.<sup>2</sup> Although the fundraiser for An was the second one, it was the first whose donor list was published in a booklet. The list provides important information on where those donors lived and shows that Koreans on Kaua‘i donated in aggregate more than those on any of the other islands. It is an interesting coincidence that many early Korean leaders lived on Kaua'i and Kaua'i Koreans collected the most funds. Hong Chong Pyo originally lived on Kaua'i and was the editor of the weekly Chasinbo (Korean Clarion) before he became the editor of Sin Hangukbo in Honolulu. Chasinbo was the news magazine of the Kaua'i Chaganghoe, a branch of Chaganghoe of Korea.

Donors' names in following list are romanized according to the McCune-Reischauer system

Interpreting Place Names

Donors' residences are listed in the booklet in han'gŭl transliterations of the Hawaiian pronunciations of the place names. Although most of the han'gŭl versions are readily connected with well-known place names, some are problematic. This may be because the transliterations are rather free or because they refer to obscure places no longer easily identified. The list below shows the names as recorded in the booklet and the romanized versions that have been adopted in the donors' roster that follows.
