is to take place Feb 14-20, 2003 @ Art Theatres in Restaurant Row.

It will be billed as the First Annual Kirk Cashmere Jewish Film Festival. Save the dates and spread the word.

Opening night film is "God is Great, I'm Not" (France 2001) Audrey Tatou star of the breakout film "Amelie, charms audiences in this romantic comedy. Michele, 20 years old, feels terrible after having broken up with her boyfriend. She meets Francois, who is a veterinarian and Jewish. Michele decides to convert to Judaism because she has to believe in something, if not in someone.

Don Brown of the Art Theaters in Restaurant Row has been working very hard with us to get it to fruition.

He will be showing "Max" starring Jon Cusack starting January 31 and this new feature film will run continuously throughout our Festival. Then when our's closes Don will run "Singapore Ghetto." Therefore in a sense we have a long film festival.

Please show support for this major event so that we demonstrate to Don that our program will produce revenue for his theaters.

Then we can continue to have yearly Jewish film festivals. Please spread the word and mark you calendars.

Happy Holidays filled with health, joy and peace.
