

Robert Bares – Asian Development Bank

Robert Bares, a Honolulu attorney working in the Office of the General Counsel of the Asian Development Bank (ADB) in Manila, was killed without apparent provocation or reason by a security guard in the Bank's parking lot.

Should his widow be allowed to bring a lawsuit against the ADB?

Is the security guard an "agent" of the Bank?

The Bank is an international organization established to promote development in Asia. Should it be immune from suit?
