

EDITORIAL

IT IS A PLEASURE to say that with this issue we have all the delayed issues behind us. Volume 29 will be the 1990 volume and the year of printing will match the year on the cover on the first issue. We have agreed upon a strict schedule with the University of Hawaii Press for future issues, and we certainly hope to keep to that schedule. We need your submissions, however. As of this writing (January 1990), I do not yet have the copy for the special Indonesian volume planned as Volume 29. I may have to make up the first issue of Vol. 29 from what we have on hand to keep to our schedule, and, at present, we have only two or three papers accepted for the next open issue. Of course, by the time you read this we will have passed our deadline for 29(1), but my request for submissions is a continuing one and holds for future issues.

This issue is a good example of how quickly papers received will be going to press. Two of the articles and one of the review articles were received and reviewed during the three months before this issue was turned over to the press. We would like to develop a short backlog list so that we would have in hand or at least have being reviewed enough papers to fill the issue following the one just being turned over to the press. We are still short of book reviewers.
