Investigating the Impact of Aurasma

Aloha Everyone,

My name is Kekai Richards, I am a graduate student at the University of Hawaii (UH). As part of my degree program, I am developing and implementing an instructional design study. The purpose of this instructional design study is to explore and investigate the impact of the Aurasma platform for Kapolei Elementary teachers to design and evaluate an opinion-writing lesson. I am asking you to participate in this project because you are at least 18 years old and you are a public school teacher that instructs grades 3-5 in an elementary classroom setting.

What activities will you do in the study and how long will the activities last?

If you participate, I will ask you to fill out an initial questionnaire to get a better grasp of your technological background and your point of view of Augmented Reality. Augmented Reality is a live direct or indirect view of a physical, real-world environment whose elements are augmented (or supplemented) by computer-generated sensory input such as sound, video, graphics or GPS data. The survey will take about 5 to 10 minutes. Then you will proceed to the website that is the center of the study. You will be given two weeks to work at your own-pace throughout the module from your personal computer. The module will instruct you step by step how to use the Aurasma app. It will show you how to download the app from an iOS or Android platform onto your mobile device, then you will proceed throughout the module how to utilize the app and provide an example how educators may utilize this app into the classroom. If you have any questions or concerns, than you may contact me to assist you in anyway. After completing the module, you will be ask to fill out the post survey to assist me in evaluating the website, which should only take about 5 to 10 minutes. If you participate, you will be one of a total of 10 teachers who will engage in the aforementioned activities individually.

Benefits and Risks:

There may be no direct benefits to you in participating in my research project. The results of this project might help me and other researchers learn more about how Aurama impacts educators at the elementary school level for writing. I believe there is little or no risk to you in participating in this project. There is a possibility you may become uncomfortable or stressed by the Augmented Reality tool, Aurasma when learning to utilize the tool. If that happens, you may take a break from the task. At anytime, you may also withdraw from the project altogether.
